Mission No. 1

King Mederos of Carmel, opposing incumbent Andrew Jacobsen for election as supervisor from this district, came in beaming brightly enough to substitute for the sunrise that didn't materialize Wednesday.

"I've accomplished Mission No. 1, and before election, too," he announced.

It appears that since 1941 King has been needling Andy to do something about the corrugated condition of the strip of county road between State Highway No. 1 and Carpenter street. His last reminder was at a public debate between the two candidates before the East Monterey Citizens League several weeks ago. Andy has been protesting over the years that he has drainage problems and nothing can be done about that strip of road so vital to the interest of Carmel. So King listed it as "Mission No. 1" on his agenda of "Andy's chronically unfinished business that I'll attend to when I'm elected supervisor." Carmel Valley Road, another of Andy's "drainage problems" is also high on King's list.

Yesterday, in spite of the insurmountable drainage condition, work began on the road leading into Carmel. King, hunting out Andy, jibed, "It pays for a supervisor to have some opposition, occasionally."

"I wouldn't say that..." grumbled Andy, opposed for the first time in his 16 years of office holding.

We'd say it. "Fixtures" in office are inclined to lose interest in the needs and the wishes of the voters unless they are prodded with the thought that come election time the voters will have a chance to pay off for inertia and neglect of their interests.

Around Listening

Senator Fred Weybret, up for re-election to the state senate, was in Carmel Monday, listening patiently to the voice of the people as various constituents told him what they did not like about how the world was going, especially that particular part of it, the State of California. Lest Carmel feel that it is alone in its travail over the possibility of being forced into a union with the Monterey school district, Senator Weybret gives the thin consolation that we have company. People in the King City area and also in San Luis Obispo County are not only having to face redistricting issues, but are aroused over the effect it will have on their rural schools, and the rural school transportation problems.

Gratitude

Paul Mays is painting busily in his studio in Hatton Fields an oil of a street scene in Chartres, France. He expects that the work will be finished by June 1, when it will be sent to the National Society of Mural Painters of which he is a member. This group will act as his agent in placing the pic-

Glimpses of the Youth Conference

BY EDWARD O. SISSON

The time was Saturday, May 15; the place, the beautiful campus of the Carmel High School; the occasion a conference with the significant title—"Planning with Youth for Community Co-ordination"—note the "with Youth." The very first act was unusual and gracious, "coffee and doughnuts" for the members as they arrived from all over the five counties participating. By the time for the opening session to begin, 9:30, everybody was warmed within and without and quite ready to co-ordinate, confer, communicate and co-operate.

Then came the sections: I. Mental, Physical and Social Health; II. Education, Guidance and Employment; III. Recreation and Group Work. These continued until mid-afternoon, with adjournment for luncheon, and another brief general session concluded the occasion, with reports and summing up. If there were any dull moments they happened when I was somewhere else.

Of many high points, two must suffice here. First, a business man, personnel director for a large firm, Harry J. Martin, whether he knew it or not, saw right down into the heart of youth education and pointed to profound moral issues. He told of teen-age boys seeking jobs, and actually refusing even to fill out an application unless promised $2.00 per hour to start with. "They have a false sense of the place of money in human life," he said. It was good for educators and social workers to listen to him; and how good it would be if business had more such men, with the sense of human values.

Then two teen-agers, girl and boy, earnestly explaining to the grown-ups that youth does not want everything handed out on a silver salver, but much prefers to plan and do things for themselves. No doubt these two were selected and perhaps exceptional individuals; but of their intelligence and seriousness nobody could be in doubt. Seeing and hearing them was good medicine for anyone who yields to the pervasive tendency to belittle and condemn modern youth. Even though the two were selected, still their courage and intelligence are significant; youth will do its part if we grown-ups will do ours, especially in letting them do theirs. There is some spoiled child complex among our youth; but how much are grown-ups, especially parents, really responsible?

One of the low points of the conference was just here: there were too few youths and far too little provision for their active participation. The conference was really "planning for" instead of "planning with" youth. This was realized and commented upon as the sessions went on, and will doubtless be corrected in subsequent conferences.

While I am speaking of low points, and they were very few, let me mention another: the absence of any representation of the greatest single group in our society and the greatest force for educational advance, labor. Home, state, church, and of course, school, were there in force; why not labor? I must make it clear

Keith Evans Heads Board Of Appeals

Mayor Fred Godwin announced his appointments to the newly created board of appeals, which is to be headed by Keith Evans.

The board will have a two-fold function, to review the building code and suggest possible changes to the city council, and to serve as a court of appeals when the application of the building code appears to cause undue hardship in special cases.

Other members of the board are Robert Jones, Hugh Comstock, Clayton Neill and Waldo Hicks. Floyd Adams, building inspector, and William Hudson, city attorney, are ex-officio members.

JACOBSON-MEDEROS DEBATE

Candidates for Supervisor will have their day before the Democratic Women's Club this afternoon. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. L. O. Kellogg, Eleventh and Scenic, at 2:30 o'clock. Andy Jacobson will defend his title against King Mederos. General discussion will follow the speakers. Men are invited.

Progress Nil At Redistricting Meeting Here

As The Pine Cone went to press Thursday afternoon the Redistricting Committee, meeting at the Church of the Wayfarer, was progressing as it had been throughout the day, in the general direction of nowhere. When the confusion became too apparent, Chairman E. M. Seifert suggested that a committee of citizens be appointed from each of the three Peninsula towns and one for the outlying districts to study the problems of redistricting for their own area and report back to the Redistricting Committee. He is to choose the committee from names suggested by the audience of citizens attending the meeting, and others that may be suggested to him later.

Have Fun, Help Kids Have Fun, See Play Tonight

Tonight and tomorrow night, 8:15 o'clock, at Sunset Auditorium, The Night of January 16th, by Ayn Rand, will be presented to the public by the Carmel Adult School Players. The tickets are $1.20, including tax, and no seats will be reserved. This courtroom drama has thrilled audiences everywhere it has been played, with its mounting dramatic tension, amusing and interesting witnesses and the way they are disclosed among the audience. Seemingly placid spectators turn into wrathful and shouting witnesses.

Members of the jury are chosen by lot from the audience, take their places on stage and the play begins. Those wishing to serve can leave their names on slips of paper at the box office and they will be paid for their services in the form of a rebate of the ticket price.

The Carmel Lions Club, under whose sponsorship the play is being presented in Carmel, has announced that all proceeds will be placed in its Youth Activity Fund. The clubhouse and equipment for the Boys' Club will be the first to benefit from this fund with the project of night-lighting the high school football field to follow. Eventually the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts will also benefit from the Youth Activity Fund. Mike Balazs and Waldo Hicks are co-

Everybody Helped To Give The Art Gallery A Sidewalk

The next time you go to the post office, step across the street and look at the new brick sidewalk in front of the Carmel Art Association Gallery. It will justify your belief in the human race.

"George Seidenbeck and I were standing in front of the gallery one day last month, discussing the dirty outlook," said C. Fremont Rider, when asked how it all came about. The two members of the Association decided that something should be done. Rider, owner of the apartment hotel at Lincoln and Fifth, began a canvassing campaign that netted $468 in a few days, contributed in amounts of $5 to $25 by Carmel business men and citizens. As the result a new and attractive walk in patterned brick, with three young white birch trees in boxes, was completed two weeks ago, and the gallery is for the first time free from dust.—J. U.

Since the redistricting plan as it would affect Carmel has already been exhaustively studied by a committee appointed by the Carmel School Board, and officially reported upon to the Redistricting Committee by the School Board, the appointment of another committee to do the same work for Carmel appeared superfluous to some of the observers present.

Numerous citizens were expressing opinions during the morning and afternoon sessions, few of them friendly to the redistricting idea. Foremost in the minds of Carmel people was the fear of losing control of their schools through redistricting should a Peninsula wide school board, elected at large, administer the entire district.

Redistricting Chairman Seifert said that he'd hate to be on a Peninsula school board and discriminate against Carmel judging by the way Carmel citizens protest when they believe their rights are being infringed upon.

This brought a laugh, but as one citizen commented to his neighbor at the meeting, Carmel doesn't want to have to go before a district school board made up of citizens of other towns to fight for the rights of its schools; it wants to continue to elect its own school board, from its own citizens, to administer its own school affairs.

Judging by the opinions expressed by their representatives, outlying school districts such as Bay School and the schools up the Valley are no more friendly to the unification idea than is Carmel.

BOB BARRY WINS NORTH COAST SECTION MILE

For the third consecutive year Bob Barry, Carmel High School star athlete, has come home from the NCS track meet with a championship. As a sophomore Bob broke the NCS record in the 1320 yard run, lightweight division. Graduating to the heavyweight division last year, Barry copped the NCS mile and went on to run third in the State mile. This year the Northern California milers were determined to stop Bob, but he put on his familiar courageous kick and won the event by a good 25 yards. Bob's time was 4:33 which is five-tenths of a second off the NCS record for the mile.

Paul Warner, Padre ace hurdler, scored additional points for Carmel in the NCS when he ran fourth in the high hurdles. Paul ran the best race of his career, but he was stacked up against an exceptional field of timber toppers. In his qualifying heat, Paul set a new school record to finish well in front of the rest of the field.

Eric Short, the most improved performer on the track squad, gave his best effort in the high jump to soar 5 feet 7 inches which was good enough for third place. Eric started the season barely able to clear 4 feet, 7 inches, and improved each week until he hit a new high in the NCS meet.

The Padre lightweight relay team of Jim Harget, Ed Goodrick, Aram Tootelian, and Peter Berg ran into too much competition in their heat and just missed qualifying. They ran a fine race but were matched with too much speed.

Carmel's ten points in the NCS earned them seventh place and placed them higher than any other team from the CCAL.

PINE CONE WINS SERIES FROM NAVAL AIR

Last Monday night at Sunset Field the Pine Cone softballers took the odd game of a three game series with the Naval Air Station of Monterey. The locals won the first tilt, 14 to 11, and the Navy came back to cop the second outing, 5 to 4. Monday's game ended with the Pine Cone on the long end of a 9-2 count.

The Aviators scored a brace of tallies in the first inning and were held safe for the rest of the distance. Jay Huffman, on the mound for the Pine Cone, ran into difficulty in the opening frame when two walks, two errors and a screaming double by Manager Kowski chased two runs across for the Navy. Jay held the visitors hitless for the next four innings and the peerless Ky shut the door on the airfield hitters for the next three frames. Chief Kowski was the only Navy bat swinger who could connect for a base hit. The Chief is a potent hitter in anybody's league and a double and triple is about par for him.

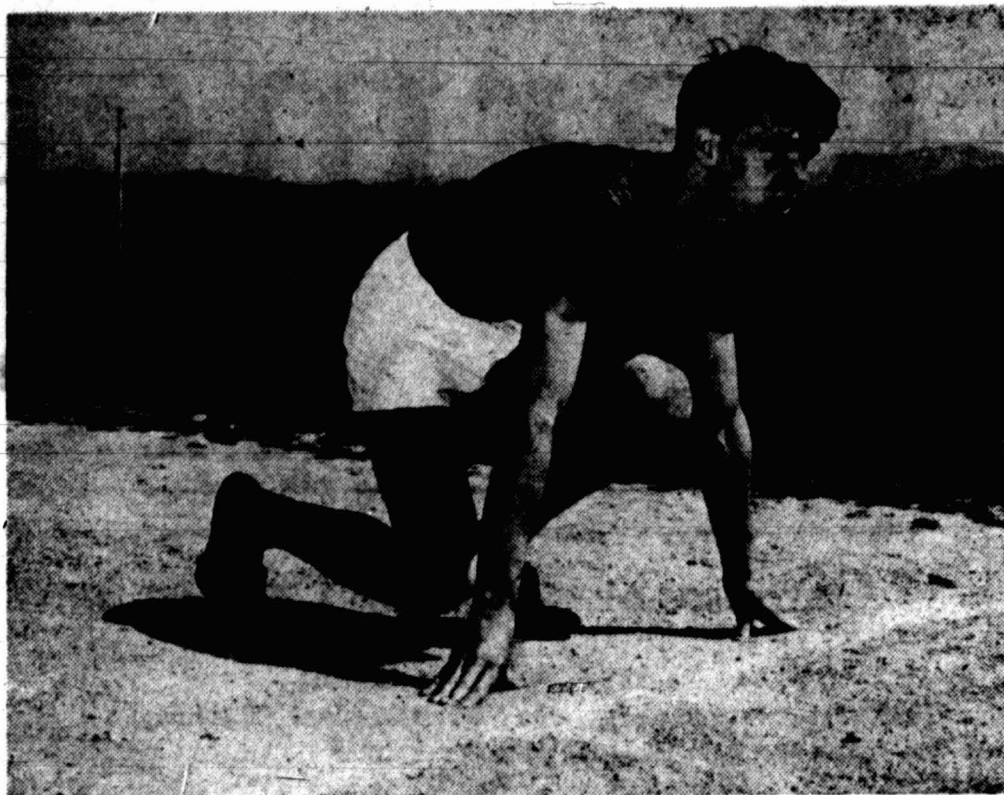

Joe Nicholson, Pine Cone catcher, wielded the big stick for the locals when he lashed out a double and single in three chances. Joe has been handling the pitchers in big league fashion and his hustle keeps the team on the alert all the time.

PINE CONE DEFEATS FORT ORD, 2 TO 0

Behind the three hit pitching of Jay Huffman and Ky Miyamoto the Pine Cone softball nine breezed to a 2-0 victory over a good Fort Ord team last Friday night. The soldiers fielded a baseball-wise aggregation who will be tough to beat when they hit their stride. They had difficulty solving the pitching slants of Huffman and Miyamoto, but their fielding was near perfect and their pitching was good.

Blanked for the first three innings, the locals finally found the range in the third frame and pushed across two tallies on three base hits. Bob Bell laid down a perfect bunt for an infield hit and Joe Nicholson sent him all the way around with a screaming single into left field, Jack Giles followed with another single to drive in the second run. This ended the scoring for the evening, but it was

Bob Barry, Carmel High School track captain, who again vanquished the best milers in Northern California at the North Coast Section meet. Next meet for this star athlete will be the State Championships at Berkeley, May 29.

While the Pine Cone was collecting 6 hits and 2 runs, the soldiers were held to 3 hits and 0 runs. Huffman and Miyamoto had control of the Ord hitters throughout the contest and kept the three blows well scattered.

Gene Ricketts led the Pine Cone hitters, collecting two blows in three trips to the plate.

DEADLOCK IN TOP SPOT IN ABALONE LEAGUE

Standings

	W	L
Tigers	5	3
Giants	5	3
Shamrocks	4	4
Pilots	2	6

Allan Knight's Pilots didn't win many games in the Abalone League this year but they provided the upset which took the top prize away from the Giants and makes it possible for the Tigers to win the flag in the playoff.

In last Sunday's play, the Pilots spilled the high-riding Giants, 14 to 11, in one of the wildest games of the current season. Home runs were plastered all over the lot, and the pitchers were treated in an unmerciful manner. Silent Giles, Joe Nicholson, and George Younkin especially liked the brand of pitching and helped themselves to home runs.

Until Sunday's game Jay Huffman's Shamrocks were in the running for league honors, but an 11-8 drubbing from the Tigers relegated them to an also-ran position. Next Sunday the Giants and the 156 yard, par three, tenth hole of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course. Playing with him were Commander W. Paul Schoeni, Commander Karl Wheland, Commander A. G. Dibrell, Jr., also of the Del Monte Naval School. Commander Blackford used a 3 iron.

Hi Chatter...

By Peggy Riker

Carmel's seniors braced themselves this week as graduation looms suddenly near. Holding the last senior meeting of the year, the class planned several commencement activities including a senior party, baccalaureate service, and a barbecue, a new innovation on the list of senior social plans. Many members of the group will participate in the California English A examinations to be given at Monterey Saturday, while others will complete the San Jose Aptitude Test.

The eighth grade is planning a party for Friday which will welcome the seventh grade and will help orient them with the campus and students of Carmel High.

High School tennis team members, Lee Winslow and Mat Schmutz, ace racqueteers, have played their way to the top of the league pile and this Saturday will journey to Stanford to test their skill in the Northern Section Tennis Tournament. The girls, equally zealous, took on an older and more experienced Salinas Junior College tennis and badminton teams last Thursday in another spring play-day which gave the high school teams an opportunity to become acquainted with the junior college sports facilities.

In the second of a series of military education periods Wednesday, the senior boys witnessed the navy film depicting the Antarctic Expedition. Officers were present to answer and discuss questions pertinent to navy life and training.

Rounding out their social calendar for the year the Leaders' club perpetuated a tradition Wednesday by giving a progressive dinner consisting of a different course at each member's house. The affair was a success, leaving in its wake the warm glow of a "bountiful repast" and good company.

Last Thursday the California Scholarship Federation held its social event of the season. Meeting at the house of Mrs. Elise de Celles Beaton, the members enjoyed a delicious dinner which was served in her lovely patio amid the cheers of starved "brains." Over 30 members participated in the annual event.

X-RAY UNIT DUE JUNE 5

Free chest X-rays will be available for residents of Carmel at Nielsen's parking lot, Dolores and Seventh, on Saturday, June 5, the Monterey County Tuberculosis and Health Association announced this week. The mobile miniature X-ray unit will be in operation from 10:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., and will be at the disposal of all residents over 12 years of age.

In a program made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals the unit will visit 16 cities and towns in Monterey County from May 24 to June 12. These X-rays are of the screening type, the Association explained, and will reveal any abnormalities of heart or lungs. Confidential reports will be mailed to those examined, with the interpretations of a panel of X-ray and chest specialists. This service takes only a few minutes, and has the full endorsement of city and county health departments, and of the Monterey County Medical Society.

P. D.

Two Seaside men were arrested Monday night at Larry's Richfield Station when Carmel police answered a call from a nearby resident, who said two men were breaking down the door of the office. A police car arrived to find the station lights blazing, and just in time to apprehend Philip York Yager, surrounded by broken glass. A second man, who had been standing on the corner when police drove up, disappeared into the darkness.

Yager said that he had run out of gas, and had broken in to "borrow" some from Larry Wadell, the owner, whom he described as a friend. The officer held a gun on Yager with one hand, and fumbled for a nickel with the other to call for assistance in rounding up the second suspect. John Laverre Merriale was later picked up, and admitted being present, but denied further connection with the crime. Both men were lodged in the Monterey jail in lieu of $500 bail each.

Charges were dismissed Wednesday when Larry Wadell refused to prosecute, the men offering to pay for the damages.

Plans Completed By American Legion For Memorial Day

Mayor Fred Godwin and Chaplain David H. McDonald of the Del Monte Naval School will participate in Memorial Day services Sunday, May 30, at Devendorff Plaza, Col. Roy N. Hillyer of the Carmel Post of the American Legion announced Tuesday. The program, presented by the American Legion, will begin at 2:00 p. m., and will include a roll call of 18 local soldiers, sailors, and members of the merchant marine who gave their lives in World War II.

Col. Hillyer has invited the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Boys' Club to be present in uniform and colors. There will be salutes by a firing squad from Fort Ord, and Gledhill's of Carmel will provide music by public address system.

COLOR SLIDE SHOW

For Leota Tucker's Adult Education Photography class in Carmel on Monday, May 24, at 7:30, Theresa Whiteside will show color slides taken on her latest trip to Death Valley and Nevada, and Mrs. Walter Tuthill of Carmel will show photographic scenes of Yosemite Valley. Everyone is invited to attend.

On Saturday, May 22, at 2:00 p. m., there will be a field day for the photography class; everyone will meet at the south side of the Carmel City Park and there will be special instructions by Mrs. Ethel Sherburne.

Spite Fences, Business Zoning Under Discussion

Spite fences occupied the attention of the Carmel Planning Commission at a short session Wednesday afternoon, after the City Council had passed the buck at its meeting May 5. The question came up at the council meeting when a local citizen asked that something be done about 8-foot board fences. The council referred the matter to the planning commission.

After a rather heated debate, in which Commissioner Bert Her-

Sunset School News

James Blee's Seventh Grade

The boys from the fourth up to the seventh grade have been playing after school sports at Sunset School since Tuesday, March 2. Each Tuesday at 3:45, two games started on the north and south fields. There were four teams playing in the league: the Bulldogs captained by Leslie Doolittle, the Rubes captained by Mike Elliott, the Foggies, captained by Mike Ricketts, and the Mufflers captained by Nathan Stiles.

The Mufflers came in second with a percentage of .600. The Rubes were third with a percentage of .384 and the Bulldogs were last with a percentage of .286.

The two seventh grades get up some pretty hot games in P. E. During baseball season Mr. Blee's room won almost every game, but in basketball the games were pretty well divided. Of course, we (Mr. Blee's room) took almost all of the games in football with the greatest of ease. In fact, Mrs. Jordan's boys usually got steamrollered! The boys are looking for-

AVU COMMISSIONING

The Aviation Volunteer Unit No. 4 of the U. S. Naval Reserve will be formally commissioned by the 12th Naval District headquarters in a ceremony Sunday at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station in Monterey. Commission orders will be read by Capt. H. F. MacComsey, USN, commanding officer of the Naval Air Station at Oakland, and presented to Lt. H. J. Hackett, USNR, commanding officer of the AVU.

OPERA COMING

Plans are under way to bring opera to Carmel's Forest Theatre in September, according to Arturo Casiglia, director of the Pacific Opera Company of San Francisco. To be included are performances on September 2, 3, 4, and 5, with Casiglia as conductor and director, of Rigoletto, Lucia, La Traviata, and Carmen. The Carmel City Council has granted permission for the use of the theatre, and local arrangements will be handled by Hal Boyd of Carmel Highlands and Thomas Morley of Carmel.

Not very long ago, Mr. Blee's seventh grade gave a very interesting play. The main lesson was Fire Prevention. It was a dream two children had about a bear who was a safety bear.

The characters were: Betty, Karen von Meier; Joe, Nathan Stiles; Bruin, Leslie Doolittle; Mr. Possum, Jack Hilgers; first animal, Mike Ricketts; second animal, Dawn Suurballe; third animal, Myrna Sutton; forest ranger, Bill Gorham; and fire and smoke spirits were played by Joy DeAmara, Janet Grafft, Mary Adams, Janis Williams, Carole Byers, Gray Burnham, Barbara Kellar, Gay Masten, and did a dance representing a forest fire. Paul Ricketson and Arthur Page took care of the lights. It was very impressive and I think we got the idea across to the audience.

AWVS ACTIVITIES

A business meeting of the American Women's Voluntary Services was held on Monday, May 17, at the Pebble Beach home of Mrs. Louis Lengfeld, acting state president and national field director of the AWVS. Mrs. J. H. Pridmore reminded any member who still had AWVS gift house ticket books in her possession please to phone her at Monterey 4169 or return them to Mrs. Gladys Johnston at the Pine Inn in Carmel before June 1, where additional donations to the project can be made. Further interests taken up at the meeting concerned the extension of library services wherever needed, work with the blind, the development of Girls Clubs in Monterey and Carmel, a location for an AWVS headquarters and shop where veterans' handiwork that is for sale may be displayed, and the co-operation of the AWVS members during the National Women's Amateur Golf Championship on the Peninsula courses which will be held September 13 to 18.

A summer meeting of the Monterey County Unit of the AWVS will again be held at Mrs. Lengfeld's on Tuesday, July 6, at 1:00 p. m., and beginning in September regular meetings will be held every fourth Monday, location to be announced later.

UTILITIES HEARING

The Public Utilities Commission hearing for the sightseeing franchise on the Monterey Peninsula was automatically adjourned Monday and re-scheduled for June 2 in San Francisco, due to the sudden death of Joseph Miller, owner of the Bay Rapid Transit Lines. Miller, stricken with a heart attack at his home in Ross, California, on Monday, was contending with the Gray Lines, Inc., for the privilege of conducting two sightseeing trips a day through Monterey, the 17 Mile Drive, and Carmel. The hearing had been moved to San Francisco after three days of testimony in Monterey last week.

The contributions from the poppies sold will go directly to the veterans who made them, or will be used by the American Legion Auxiliary for the welfare of veterans and their families. Last year twenty-five million Americans wore the symbolic poppy on Poppy Day.

Through the courtesy of Fortier's Drug Store Unit 512 has a poppy poster window display of two posters which were territorial winners of the Poppy Poster contest held in April at the Carmel High School. Poster winners were Linda Bain and Becky Bell. Posters of other winners will be on display in various store windows throughout the town. Names of these poster winners are: senior group, Joan Mullin, Marlene Becar, Murrey Wight, Bill Marquardt, Ruth Dunlap, Diornicia Narvaez, and Colleen Dolan; honorable mention: Margot Campbell, Ann Ferrante, Charis Johns, Patricia Machado, Nancy McCarthy, Lew McCreery, Betty Moran, Dennis Narvaez, Joyce Stiles, Carol Templeman, and Caren Williams. Junior group winners are: Barbara McCrea, Barbara Berg, Janie Aors, and Roland Hathway; honorable mention: Sally Reichard, Suzanne Smith, and Claraolive Wermuth.

Pasmore Trio Give Memorable Concert For Musical Art Club

By COL. PHILIP SCHNEEBERGER

The lounge of the Forest Hills Hotel was the scene of a concert last Sunday that the Musical Art Club and its guests will long remember. Presented in this locality for the first time, the Pasmore Trio, three talented sisters, Mary, Dorothy and Suzanne of a gifted musical family, gave a program distinguished by good ensemble technique and tonal color that varied from gentle andantes to the most vigorous passages in the trio by Dvorak, and attained outstanding grace and charm in the other numbers. The sisters, who have played chamber music here and abroad for many years, are known as concert artists and as members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Their program which included works that bridged more than two centuries, covered pieces by Francois Couperin (1720), Anton Dvorak (1891), and Louis Delune, a lesser-known French composer who appeared somewhere between the others. The Couperin Opus was the fourth of a series of Royal Euites, written for "les petits concerts du roi," the king being Louis XIV. The Pasmores kept well the spirit of this enchanting work, opening it with a solemn, formal prelude fitting to the royal host to whom it was dedicated, varying this with rapid rhythmic episodes, offering next the stately sarabande with a character almost spiritual, and ending the suite with two movements marked by vivacious energy. Their ensemble unity was precise throughout.

Precision also distinguished their second number, the Suite Galante for Cello and Piano, by Delune. In this one the instruments followed the changing moods and tempos as well as the gay elements of surprise in a manner that tokened fine understanding and arduous practice. This romantic suite became a perfect example of graceful Gallic composition, and its joyous presentation quickly permeated the audience.

The Dumky Trio of Dvorak made the greatest demands on the performers both in its technical difficulties and its emotional content. It seems to reflect some moods of the Russia the composer visited the year before and carries in its title the Russian word for "lament." The Pasmore Trio gave this piece a reading that emphasized in the second and third movements the tragic history of Bohemia and the sorrows that touched the life of the composer. They gave vivid expression in the other movements to the fiery, pointed rhythms that characterize Dvorak's work of this period, and in the finale fell admirably into the spirit of his dance forms with their gay folk merriment and Czech humor. Throughout they gave life to the strange harmonies and wistful melodies that lend charm and spice to Dvorak's compositions.

Although the above ended the programmed numbers, an additional piece was offered after prolonged applause. This was a song composed by the performers' father, Henry Bickford Pasmore, and was rendered feelingly and unaffectedly by Mrs. Jean Pasmore. The song titled The Message, and suggesting a German Lied, was effectively accompanied by the Pasmore Trio. The latter is indeed to be complimented on their accomplishments. It is evident that the spirit that has motivated them for over a score of years has not even slumbered. It is still actively alive and capable of bringing to their ensemble a purity of tone and co-ordination of effort that reflects sound musicianship and mature interpretation.

U. W. F. Sponsor Talk By Upshur Evans

Sunday night, at the Sunset School Auditorium, Upshur Evans will speak on World Government—Today or Tomorrow. He is national executive director of the United World Federalists, and like his president, Cord Meyer, Jr., was voted one of the ten outstanding young men of America.

After a brief business career, following graduation from college, Upshur Evans served during the war in Military Intelligence in the Far East. After the war he went to work as account executive for the Gulf Oil Company.

Evans comes to the West Coast direct from Washington, where Congress is considering resolutions covering world government plans, and will give a report on the outlook. The Monterey Peninsula is one of only three places in northern California where he will speak during his trip. E. H. A. Watson of Carmel, will preside at the meeting.

Evans' address is the first to be sponsored by the newly organized Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the United World Federalists. At 7:20 p. m., just before Evans' talk, the chapter will meet in the cafeteria of Sunset School, to receive the report of the nominating committee and elect officers to serve until September 15. The committee is composed of Dr. Frederick W. Haasis, chairman, Carmel; Mrs. Willard Wheeler, Pebble Beach; Fred W. Workman, Pacific Grove; Calvin C. Cope, Monterey, and Mrs. Carmalita Benson, Carmel.

WAINWRIGHT TO SPEAK

Samuel H. Wainwright, Jr., the portrait painter whose work has recently been on display at the Pine Inn and other local galleries, will address Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte's current literature group in Room 11 of Sunset School at 7:30 next Tuesday evening, May 25. As the author of the self-illustrated discussion on oriental art, entitled Beauty in Japan, and editor of a satirical periodical for many years in Bermuda, Mr. Wainwright will speak of his experiences among artists and writers in various parts of the globe. Visitors are welcome to attend these Tuesday evenings which are part of the Carmel Adult School program.

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Harriet Norman's 4th. Grade.

I went with Mr. Konigshofer in his racing boat, the "Aha." We went to Point Lobos past Smugler's Cave to a secret cave. On the way back a wave hit us and we swamped. I was the wettest of the bunch.
—Jonathan Jenkins.

On May 3, Sunset School had a May Dance Festival. First the Kindergarten did A Hunt in the Forest. Next was The Muffin Man. The first grades did that. Next the second grades did Yankee Doodle and the third grades danced Come Let Us Be Joyful. The fifth grades had two dances, The Rye Waltz and Varsoviene. The fourth grade girls danced the Maypole Dance. One of the streamers came down so that one girl had to step out. That made us make a lot of mistakes but the people didn't seem to notice it.
—Sandra Smith.

I played in the Fathers and Sons Baseball Game. I was on Mr. Ogden's team. I played left field and Daddy played right field. Mr. Ogden's team won. Mr. Knight treated his team to cokes.
—Mervin Sutton.

The other day my mother and I saw a squirrel climbing up a tree with a mushroom in his mouth. When he got up in the tree, he started to nibble at it.

While it was raining, I saw another squirrel. His tail was laid over his head and he sat there still about fifteen minutes. He looked so funny. I had to have my hair washed then. After that was done, I went back to look for him but he was gone.
—Robertta Vallon.

On Tuesday, April 27, we went to visit Mission San Carlos. In the first room were lots of interesting pictures of the Mission. There was a lovely garden with beautiful flowers and statues and swallow's nests on the tower. I enjoyed the trip very much.
—Robin Burnham.

We saw a new statue in the garden at the Mission. It showed four Indians and a Father teaching an Indian woman. Her baby was next to her. The statue is being finished. We liked everything very much.
—Jan Pierre Olivie.

I saw the grave of Father Serra, Fr. Crespi, and Fr. Lasuarn. We went into another room and saw a sarcophagus. Then we saw cases of old robes, tools, guns, knives, and all kinds of old things.
—Bob Wise.

We went all through the Mission. I saw an old gun and a lot of knives. I myself thought the altars were the most interesting of all.
—Teddy Childers.

We saw all the old robes the priests wore long ago. We saw the one Father Serra wore when the Mission was founded. The graves of Father Junipero Serra and two other priests were by the altar. There were many interesting things. We saw the room in which Fr. Serra died and a model of the Mission before it became a ruin.

Alec Skinner Finds Clam At 2200 Feet

Alec Skinner of the Carmel Hill Fire Station startled fellow firemen last week by announcing that there are clams in the Carmel Valley, and produced a six inch specimen to prove it. There was no chowder served at the station, however. The bivalve is petrified, and as hard as the sandstone boulder in which it was found.

A road crew under Foreman Skinner, working near the Sid Ormsbee lookout, made the discovery when a two-foot boulder fell and split, revealing its crusty occupant. Found at 2,200 feet, the fossil weighs about 1½ pounds and is in perfect condition, but not for chowder.

The Time Has Come . .

By Kippy Stuart

There is a fallacious belief that the term "Carmel Garden" applies to one that is overgrown, mussy and full of stuff and stuff. A garden that is left to itself has a casual look, a wild charm. Many of us who have called at a home with such a garden, know that the "wild charm" is apt to measure our length on the vanished garden path or plunge us into a hidden abyss that was once a fish pool.

I happened into such a garden the other day and was commissioned to "straighten things up." The owners were young folk with a love of growing things and were proud that their garden was one of the oldest in Carmel. You never saw such a jungle. Indifferent and casual planting had gone on there for years with no respect to suitability or form. Wild lilac fought cotoneaster; rambler roses smothered escallonia; bulbs were scattered over the entire place, popping up in the heart of a rose bush or struggling for life at the foot of a pine tree. The appalling thing was, that my young hosts couldn't bear to part with a single growing thing. Couldn't we move this there and that over here? The truth was, that every inch in that garden was already packed. There just wasn't any "over here or over there." I mustn't move that bush or discard that one. Sentiment walked those garden paths and each shrub or tree had been planted by some loved friend or relative.

My hosts led me to their very own, new geranium bed. There were two sickly blooms. The two "babes in the wood" had slipped those geraniums all by themselves and weren't those geraniums lovely? The slips they had planted stood stark and bare, at least a foot long, and while these neophyte gardeners didn't know it, those geraniums had never taken root. You can toss geranium clippings over the bank and they will bloom for months. Near the prized geranium bed were sickly pelargoniums with bare, scaly stalks crowded in among azaleas; aphid-ridden cinerarias, (that had been re-seeding themselves for a generation, worried along. The entire place was run over with wild oxalis, that deadliest of California weeds. But! The wild oxalis had lovely yellow flowers, and weren't they pretty? I had sympathy for my young hosts who were so eager for a prosperous garden and who so loved all growing things.

I wasn't so keen on the job of "straightening up things." While chatting with my hosts, almost unconsciously, I whipped out my trusty clippers and went to work on a rose bush that had a strange hold on a young pine tree. A dead silence met this outrage. Was I sure that I should so massacre that rose bush? The long branches were so pretty. I was on the point of bowing out; I foresaw long hours of argument about removing this and that. Then my hosts informed me that they would be away a few days, and would I take charge.

I and my trusty garden helper went to work. We pruned, we whacked at weeds waist high. We removed bushels of unwanted truck. All of those "lovely geraniums" were discarded and in their places we planted short tips from the stems of the old plants. These tips were about five inches long and all leaves were stripped off save the top two, called the "breathers." Pelargoniums with long, leggy stems and woody, tired roots were given honorable burial in the trash pile, but not before we had removed their tips and replaced them in the earth. Stepping stones in the garden paths were dug and re-set in regular patterns; garden bed edgings were cut and trimmed; roses sprayed with nicotine and pruned to suit their position. Ground myrtle was everywhere. This we dug up and planted outside the fence to form a soft carpet approach to the house.

I awaited my hosts' return wondering at my own temerity. But when they saw their reclaimed garden they were so delighted I took courage. I only hope that the trash man arrived at their house before they go rooting in their garden discard, for there lie shades of Aunt Martha, Uncle William and Grandmother Mehitabel.

Pedestrians tempted to take that mid-block short-cut across traffic should remember that it may prove to be a short-cut to the emergency hospital, warns the California State Automobile Association.

Kindergarten, New 1st Grade Candidates Must Register

Pre-registration of new kindergarten and first grade students for 1948-49 will take place at Sunset School, Room 18, Monday and Tuesday, May 24 and 25, from 3:15 to 4:30 p. m. Children should be accompanied by a parent and a copy of their birth certificate, Arthur Hull, Sunset principal, announced. Room 18 is in the kindergarten building on the northeast corner of San Carlos and Tenth.

Age requirements for those entering kindergarten are that children must be 4½ on or before September 1, 1948, and for the first grade, 5½ on or before September 1. Students now attending kindergarten are not required to register for the first grade.

VARDA GOING SAILING

Jean Varda, the Greek painter and master wit, who was visiting on the Peninsula last weekend has planned a wonderful trip for the summer in which he will take his 21 foot boat and sail up the Sacramento river, stopping at the luxurious orchards along the way, and the tiny uninhabited islands in the river. Varda's boat, painted magnificent blues and yellow and greens with his own Varda pink, and an enormous sail, will resemble some fabulous jeweled sea monster creeping up the interior of California.

In the meantime Varda is teaching at the California School of Fine Arts, and will have a show here in Monterey soon at the Pat Wall Gallery.

For Printing that is distinctive—Telephone 2, The Pine Cone Press.

HORSE, CAR COLLISION

Walter Nielsen of Carmel returned from Carmel Valley Sunday with a dented fender, after being in a freak accident with a horse near Robles del Rio. Unexpectedly encountering three horses loose on the road, he was unable to avoid hitting one of them and injuring it so badly that Jules Kahofer, county humane officer, had to be called to dispose of the animal. The horses were the property of Bert Dienelt.

Dr. Billie's Garden

By L. A. W.

Got to talking with the carrot rows the other morning. It's really amazing what you can learn from young sprouts! I had found that if I want to have well-shaped carrots it was time I got busy and did some thinning. Incidentally, I had to get rid of some young weeds, too. Now when I thin carrots I really get down to business. No stooping over to pick out daintily a seedling here and there. I get really humble and go down on my knees astraddle the row. That brings me into close communion with the tender young things. The result is, of course, that confidences are exchanged as in no other possible way.

The youngsters informed me that so far as they knew the carrot line had its origin—like so many of us—in the old world. It may have been Europe or Asia perhaps. The original clan was a wild tribe, strong, rugged, prolific and spread widely over fields and meadows. In Holland they were first domesticated and trained to more refined manners and subdued taste. Long before the days of Elizabeth there was a migration to England. Here some of the tribe retained their more refined culture but others reverted to the wild state and their descendants still infest the English countryside. Along with a lot of antique furniture and a large consignment of conscience, representatives of the clan accompanied the early settlers to New England and so grew into native sons and daughters of the western hemisphere. Descendants followed the advice of Horace Greeley and so the young scions of the wild carrot race found their way into my garden.

Furthermore, my seedlings suggested it might be interesting to have a talk with some other members of the family, side branches, so to speak. Inquiry revealed that some of these blood relations are also living in my garden—parsnips, parsley, dill, caraway and Queen Anne's Lace—all of all things. Of course I had noticed a family resemblance between carrot tops and parsley. But certainly parsnip leaves are a far cry from parsley or dill. It took a bit of figuring to discover the line of resemblance that would make recognition simple, direct and certain. The answer is in the umbel shape of the blossoms and seed head. Dill takes only a year to come to fruition. It is the same with Queen Anne's

Lace. But carrots, parsley, parsnips are so completely refined—or frustrated—that they become producers of their own kind only once every two years.

Another way to spot the family resemblance is by the taste of the leaves. They all have a distinctive pungent flavor in both foliage and seed. The seeds are all slow to germinate but once started they cling tenaciously to life. Once rooted they cling firmly to the soil for they are of the earth earthy. Oh, yes! They all have an abundance of Vitamine A and a goodly portion of C. Also they are all subject to a common pest, the caraway worm, a beautifully ringed and jeweled black, green and orange creature with halitosis.

RED CROSS MEETING

The annual meeting of the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross will be combined with the quarterly meeting of the board of directors on Wednesday, May 26, at the Chapter House on Dolores and Ninth street. At this meeting the new chairman for the year 1948-1949 will be elected. The chairmen of the various services will present their reports. The public is cordially invited to attend, and the board is anxious to have all members of the Red Cross and Junior Red Cross participate in planning for the new year.

Carmel Students Win Honors At Music Festival

Carmel High School representatives received high ratings at the recent Northern California Music Festival held last Friday and Saturday in Oakland.

Accompanied by John Farr, director of music, the string quartet, consisting of Joan Harrington, Charis Johns, Hilery Carnson, and Basil Allaire, left Friday morning for the Roosevelt Junior High School in Oakland, where they were to perform at 3:30 that afternoon.

Playing a solo, Basil Allaire, accompanied by June Kocher on the piano, rated a mark of "excellent" on his rendition of the 1st Movement of Viotti's Violin Concerto No. 23.

The complete quartet, playing Andante, by J. C. F. Bach, and Haydn's Presto, also received an excellent rating from the critical festival judges.

In the vocal group the Carmel boys' quartet, composed of Murrey Wight, Paul Warner, Phil Wetten-gel, and Basil Allaire, closed Carmel's part of the festival in the Milrose Baptist Church in Oakland Saturday morning. Singing two old time quartet arrangements of Nellie Was a Lady and Those Pals of Ours, they added a light spot in the program, which met the approval of the audience as well as that of the judges, who marked them with an excellent rating.

John Wrightson

John Mowll Wrightson, for 13 years a resident of Carmel, died at a local hospital May 13. Mr. Wrightson was for many years manager of the Guggenheim Packing Corporation of Fresno, prior to his retirement in 1935 when he and his wife, Mrs. Maude Dana Wrightson, took up residence at Carmelo and Thirteenth. A native of Dover, England, he was a member of the Masonic Lodge No. 247 of Fresno.

In addition to his wife he leaves three brothers, Charles, Walter, and Alfred Wrightson of Fresno; three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Glasebrook and Mrs. Ethel Dudley of Fresno, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gusse of Ojai. Funeral services were held Saturday in Pacific Grove at the Paul Funeral Chapel, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating. Services were also held in Fresno at 2:00 p. m., Monday, under auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

WRITERS' CLUB MEETING

Local writers are invited to a special visitors' meeting of the Writers Club of the Carmel Adult School next Monday evening, May 24, at 7:30, in Room 11 of Sunset School. Exchange of marketing techniques will be the feature of the evening and Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte will conduct discussion of several short stories written by members and read anonymously. The main purpose of the club is the providing of an opportunity for Peninsula writers to become acquainted with one another.

Save Week, July 19 For Bach Festival

Carmel's eleventh annual Bach Festival is well under way, and will open Monday, July 19, to run through the week, closing on Sunday night, July 25. Gastone Usigli, conductor, has been rehearsing his chorus diligently, and soloists as well. This last week saw him taking a plane to Los Angeles, where he rehearsed the soloists of the B Minor Mass and of Phoebus and Pan all Saturday afternoon, evening, and all day Sunday, returning to San Francisco by plane Sunday night.

The full program and roster of soloists will be announced shortly, says the Denny-Watrous management. Nanette Levi will be back as concert mistress and violin soloist. Nannette has been doing graduate work at Juilliard in New York, and was not certain that she could be on the coast this season, but now all is arranged for her return.

The Bach Festival Chorus meets for rehearsal every Tuesday night in the Sunset School auditorium, alternately with Mr. Usigli and with Angie Machado, choral assistant. Singers are urged to attend regularly, thus helping toward the preparation of what has come to be one of the major music festivals of the country.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY NANCY LOFTON

The Stilwell Papers, by General Joseph Stilwell, ed. and arr. by Theodore H. White.

"The trouble was largely one of posture. I tried to stand on my feet instead of my knees." By standing on his feet General Joseph Warren Stilwell carried out fully and completely his mission in China, which was to increase the combat effectiveness of the Chinese Army. This incredible task he accomplished in spite of the combined efforts of the British, the Chinese, our own government and only incidentally the Japanese. From his letters it is clear that it frequently seemed to General Stilwell that he was completely alone in wanting to keep the Japanese from the all important rail lines from Burma into China, that he alone wanted to get back into Burma after he was chased out, that everyone else—and particularly Chiang K'ai-Shek and his Chinese government—had many things to attend to—of much greater importance than defeating the Japanese. General Stilwell was one of those rare and magnificent individuals who are able to fix their attention on a goal and keep it there. In his letters and papers his sense of direction, his honesty with himself, his courage and integrity, and above everything else, his wonderful sense of realism appear continually.

From this volume of his letters and papers, which is the first answer made to all the suppositions and rumors which have surrounded both General Stilwell and the Chinese government, several things are obvious which may startle the gullible. Nothing else either fits the facts or explains why subsequent events have followed the pattern which they have followed.

General Stilwell's estimate of the Chinese Nationalist Party government will fit into a nutshell—a good galling nutshell: "Corruption, neglect, chaos, economy, taxes, words and deeds. Hoarding, black market, trading with enemy." Of the Chinese Communist Party he said briefly: "Communist program . . . reduce taxes, rents, interest. Raise production and standard of living. Participate in government. Practice what they preach." In July, 1944, he wrote, "The cure for China's trouble is the elimination of Chian K'ai-Shek. The only thing that keeps the country split is his fear of losing control. He hates the Reds and will not take any chances of giving them a foothold in the government. . . . China will have civil war immediately after Japan is out. If Russia enters the war before a united front is formed in China, the Reds, being immediately accessible, will naturally gravitate to Russia's influence and control. The condition will directly affect the relations between Russia and China, and therefore indirectly those between Russia and U. S."

The corruption, confusion, stupidity and inaction of the Chinese government made only one of many burrs under the blanket, but after reading his letters I believe General Stilwell would have overcome both inertia and cupidity if the times had not been against him. He had within him a source of action which enabled him to bound up revived every time he was knocked down. He had overcome tremendous difficulties and was ready to present to the Chinese government the first well trained, disciplined and organized and equipped Chinese divisions ever known in China when he was most summarily recalled. It is not very pleasant to realize that the reason he was recalled is that President Roosevelt felt he had finished his work and was no longer needed. His weight was outweighed by graver considerations—which is an excuse perhaps justifiable militarily speaking—and again perhaps not. It is entirely possible that if General Stilwell's plans had been carried out, if he had been maintained in China, affairs both in China and elsewhere would be in an entirely different condition. It is also entirely possible that the nearest sale of the century was the selling of the Chinese Nationalist Party.

Carmel Story . . .

BY DAISY BOSTICK

Along about the time when the city government received notice of increase of rent, summer of 1946, it became rumored that All Saints' Church and parsonage might be for sale and through the skill and determination of Peter Mawdsley and the support of the city council that very valuable property was secured. The price was $40,000 for the three lots including the Church, the Parish Hall, and the parsonage. This settled a long-standing controversial question of whether Carmel should continue to rent unsatisfactory quarters or own its own City Hall and have room for its expanded activities.

The financing of the deal is a good story all by itself. From 1942 through the war years the trustees had been carefully setting aside a Capital Outlay Fund to be used sometime in the future whenever a need should become apparent. Truly amazing was their ability to pay the church the sum of $30,000 in cash, taking an option for the remaining $10,000 to extend over a period of two years. And thus there was no bond issue necessary with all its attendant expenses.

However, there was one fly in the ointment. In consenting to the sale the church directors made a restriction that the church building could not be turned over to the city until such time as they could erect their permanent home on some lots already acquired. Meanwhile E-day was rapidly approaching when the City Fathers just had to vacate their quarters on Dolores street. Nothing daunted they solved their problem very expertly by taking possession of the parsonage and making a few minor alterations to house the council, the city clerk, the building inspector and the tax collector. Thus the city saves the old yearly rent of $1,440 less $500 paid by them to the church for the parsonage, and recovers $1,000 annual rent from the parish for the use of the church. It is a sweet deal for the people of Carmel.

In all of the above arrangements the police department was left out on a limb. They were the town orphans with no place to go. Not for long, however. The city owned a storage yard at Seventh and Mission and before you could say "Zip!" a new building was erected and paid for out of Capital Outlay Funds. The police department had a home.

A much respected city official is Police Judge George P. Ross. He is a graduate of Stanford University law school and is entitled to put both an A. B. and a J. D. after his name. He combines his official duties with a private law practice.

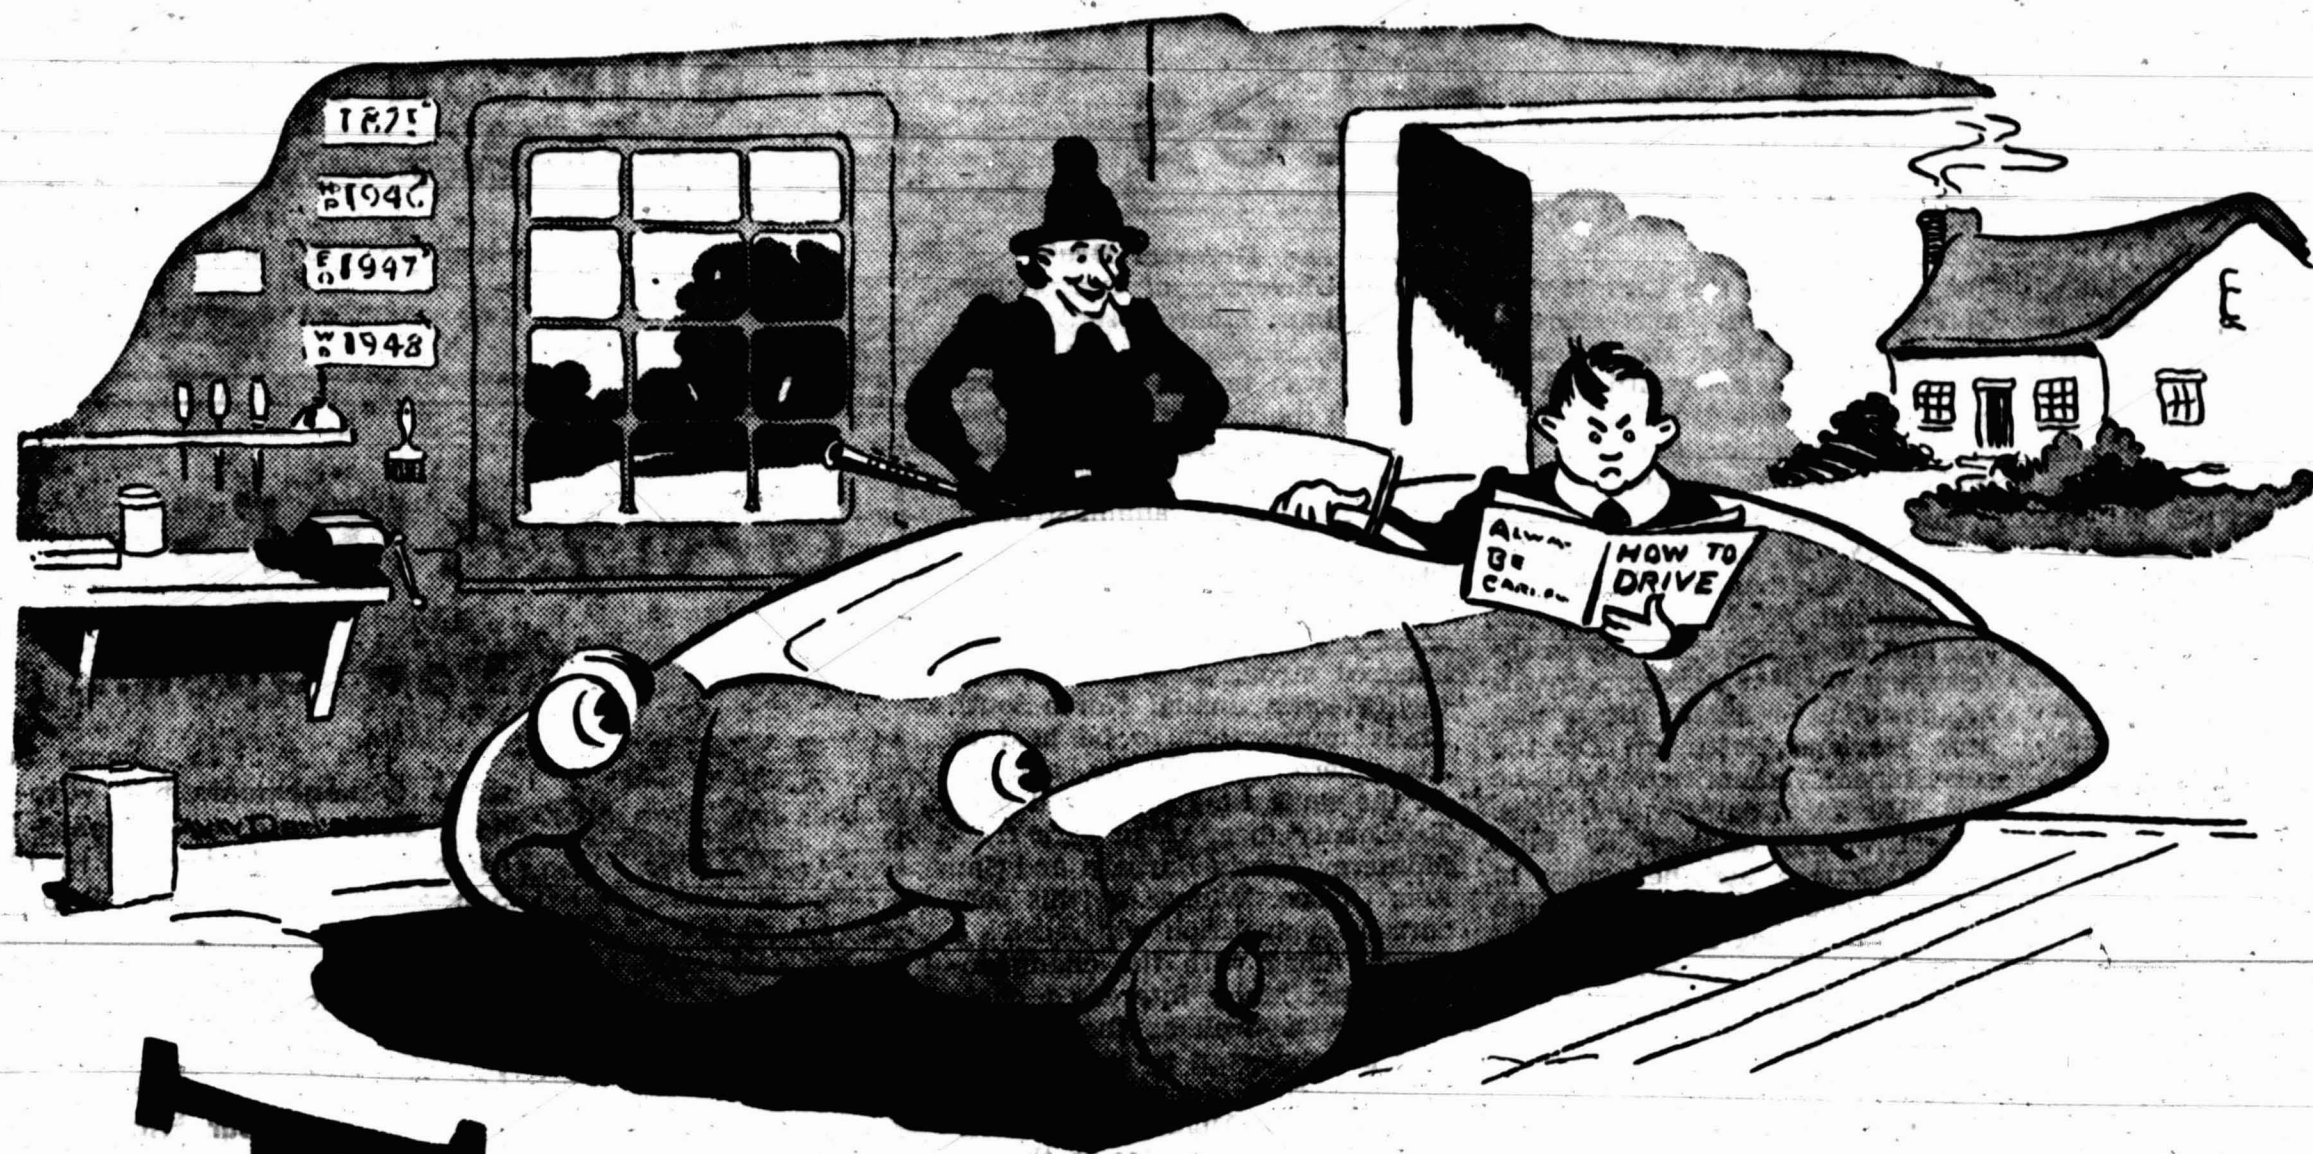

He has a big streak of practical psychology in his make-up. He views offenders as human beings and is always interested in their motivation. He says: "A lot of the people who come before me for drunkenness are just plain sick and should be looked after the same as someone suffering from a serious illness. They should have treatment more than punishment." "But," he adds, "the drinkers must stay off the streets of Carmel and away from places when they can offend the public. We have to be firm about that."

His biggest peeve is the local residents who want special privileges and the strangers who feel that they are entitled to consideration because they contribute to the town's prosperity.

Judge Ross gave this reporter a parting shot: "I don't care if the offender owns forty city blocks or how long he has been here and what worldly riches he has, he has to obey the law."

Writer Leaves

Jean Boe, who has been living in the Highlands for about a month, is leaving to make his home in San Francisco. Mr. Boe is a young writer who had always wanted to come to Carmel, and, after graduating from Harvard, spending a year writing in Vermont and a winter in Arizona, finally got west and spent a month on our enchanted coast. Mr. Boe says that he thinks San Francisco might mean long nostalgia for Carmel, so we will not be surprised if he returns for the summer.

Family Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Branson off Serra avenue was the setting last week of a family reunion of Mrs. Branson's family. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Flannery of Burlingame drove down on Thursday, and on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Tallon and baby, Shirley, of San Francisco arrived. Mrs. Flannery is the sister of Mrs. Branson.

Arriving with the Flannerys were two other sisters, Miss Betty and Miss Lorraine Giblin of Burlingame. Late Saturday night, Miss Betty Giblin's fiancé, Richard Bonemart, drove up from Los Angeles. Two surprise visitors to add a new note to the gathering were Miss Betty Johnson and Miss Margaret Smith of San Francisco.

NROTC Candidate

Carmel citizen David Hunter Grafft of Third and Guadalupe, has been selected as a Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps alternate candidate. The Navy announced its candidates for the 1948 fall term on May 16. The NROTC gives each man selected four years of college education at any one of 52 colleges or universities at government expense.

Carmel Representative

At an annual convention of the California Chiropractic Association in Santa Cruz, May 28 to 30, Dr. Francis H. Sparks, regional director, will represent Carmel's members at the meeting, as well as the California membership.

Reception At Gallery

A reception at the Carmel Art Gallery given by the Parent Teachers Association will be held on May 23 from 2:00 until 4:00 p. m. in honor of the California High Schools' Festival of Art. The reception is open to the public.

Representing the P. T. A. will be Mrs. Julian von Meier, general chairman, and hostesses Mrs. Stuart Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Elston Jr., and Mrs. Robert Brown; representing the Art Association will be hostesses Maxine Albrow and Mrs. Hoyland Bettinger. On the refreshment committee will be Mrs. Burton Doolittle and Mrs. Robert Jones, assisted by Mrs. Louise Bourne and her class in home economics at the high school. Mrs. Mark Raggett will be in charge of decoration with the assistance of Mrs. von Meier.

Chicago Visitor

Douglas Stuart of Chicago spent several days on the Peninsula last week.

Business Meeting

Thursday, May 13, was the business meeting date of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The meeting was held at the House of the Four Winds with Mrs. Kitty Ragsdale presiding. A talk was given by Mrs. Carol Boudouin, international relations chairman, on Women and the United Nations. Gertrude Ernst spoke on legislation in the European recovery program, and reported on Federal Aid to Education.

Delegates to the State Convention, which is to be held May 20-23, were elected: Mrs. Kitty Ragsdale, Mrs. Laura Harding, and Miss Gertrude Ernst. Delegates who had attended the Stockton meeting were: Mrs. Laura Harding, Mrs. Lucille Binnie, Mrs. Delphine Loudon, and the president, Mrs. Ragsdale. Miss Ernst announced a Pal party to be held May 27 at which everyone will wear a hat of her own design. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served with Miss Ernst in charge.

Carmel Boy Becomes Druid

At a University of Oregon picnic, William Monroe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Monroe of Carmel, was tapped for membership into the mystic sounding Druids, a junior men's honorary club. William is a sophomore with a major in business administration.

Chess Players

Stern-browed patient players of chess are gathering together one hundred strong to battle wits in the fifteenth annual North-South Chess tournament to be held at Atascadero, May 29, 30, and 31. At the same time there will be a Tri-County meet of players from Monterey, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo. Winner of this concurrent competition will receive a trophy along with the championship title. Many interested chess observers as well as the contestants are expected to show up for the meet, so if Monterey looks vacant over the Memorial Day holidays it is probably due to the absence of a lot of chess enthusiasts.

BRAMBLETT

During these troubled times, it means a great deal to any woman to know that she is represented in Congress by a sincere, highminded man of proven ability and integrity. Ernie Bramblett has made a success of his marriage, is a father of three children, one of them a Veteran of World War II. He was a success as co-ordinator of Schools in Monterey County—a success as Mayor of Pacific Grove and many other private trusts. Let's keep an experienced, successful representative in Congress.

Audubon Election

Dr. William A. Angwin, Monterey, was elected president of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society at its annual meeting and field trip at Hatton Ranch in Calera Canyon Sunday.

Other officers elected were Charles Anderson, Salinas, first vice-president; Roland A. Wilson, Point Lobos State Park, second vice-president; Mrs. Isabelle Terhune, Carmel, recording secretary; Mrs. William J. Canfield, Pacific Grove, corresponding secretary; Miss Maysanwy Lloyd, Pacific Grove, treasurer; Laidlaw Williams, Highlands, technical advisor; Miss Florence Morrow, Carmel, editor of The Sanderling.

Flight From South Carolina

Mrs. W. E. Lagare of Columbia, South Carolina, is spending the summer in Carmel with her daughter, Mrs. J. B. McNeill, and family. Mrs. McNeill had just spent six weeks in Columbia with her mother, and they both flew out together in a DC-6.

Back From Las Vegas

Blonde, tanned Miss Kay Lee, daughter of Mrs. Clark Lee of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, has returned from Las Vegas with Mrs. Shirley Smith. Mrs. Smith is the new owner of the row of pink houses in the Carmel Valley which used to belong to the Louis Conlans.

George White Elected

With 163 votes to other candidates' 20 and 46, George White of Carmel was almost unanimously elected first student body president of Hartnell College. Barbara Elkins of Pacific Grove led in votes for women's representative.

Youth Fellowship

John Farr will be the vocational speaker at the Church of the Wayfarer Youth Fellowship meeting Sunday. Many Careers in Music will be his subject. After the meeting everyone will gather at June Walker's home, where Barbara Teschke will help as co-hostess.

Republican Train

Mrs. Peggy Porter Marquard left Tuesday morning by plane for Berkeley where she dines Tuesday night with Governor Warren's party at the Claremont Country Club in Berkeley. Mrs. Marquard is an alternate from this district of the Central Republican Committee for the convention to be held in Philadelphia starting June 20. All the attendants will leave on Governor Warren's special train which rolls out of San Francisco on June 17. The train will stop in Sacramento so that the guests may have luncheon with Governor and Mrs. Warren; the Governor will then join the group for the trip to Philadelphia.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Ferro gave a Saturday night dinner party for Mr. and Mrs. John W. Roberts, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Grabhorn. The Grabhorns were also houseguests of the Ferros.

Richard Kroth Exhibit

Sponsored by the Rudolf Steiner Study group, Richard Kroth, artist, will visit Carmel, lecturing June 2 and 3 at the Sunset School, teaching painting June 4 and 5. At the same time an exhibition of Mr. Kroth's most recent painting from New York will be held at the H. L. Frisbie Furniture store.

D. D. Watsons Here

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Watson of Oakland spent the weekend in Carmel visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cook. Mr. Watson acquiring a tan playing a round on the Pebble Beach course.

Bixby Creek Picnic

Driving down to Bixby Creek and holding a barbecue picnic last Sunday were Dr. and Mrs. Chester Hare, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bestor, and eleven happy children.

Returns From South

Charming Mrs. Neville Kramer is back from Santa Barbara where she has been visiting with a great many of her old friends, among them Mr. and Mrs. William Hesthol, and John Gilbert.

Puppeteer Here

Flying to the Peninsula for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harris at their home, Crazy Crescent, was Robert Kelly, handsome young puppeteer who puts on the enchanting shows at the little Turnabout Theatre in Beverly Hills.

House Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Robert St. John of Abilene, Texas, are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Yard.

Los Angeles Gaiety

Mrs. Frances Tilton left for Los Angeles last Friday night for the wedding of some of her Los Angeles friends. She will hold the reception at her home in Los Angeles.

Nesbitt Returns

It appears that at long last Phil Nesbitt and his wife, Ann, are returning to live in Carmel, in their own house up in Carmel Woods. Phil says he has missed Carmel terribly. He says life away from Carmel isn't worth living, despite the fact that he and Ann have been occupying a pioneer rustic log cabin two miles up Big Creek in the Sur country, thanks to his brother John's hospitality.

June Marriage

Judge and Mrs. Ray Blanchard Lyon, who live now in San Luis Obispo, announce the marriage of Mrs. Lyon's daughter, Miss Beva Cloyne Pilling, to Mr. James Peter Farmer. The marriage will take place Saturday, June 5, at 12 o'clock at St. Clement's Episcopal Church in Berkeley. There will be a reception afterwards at the St. Clement Parish House.

Miss Pilling, a graduate of Carmel High School, attended the University of California at Berkeley for a year, where she became engaged to Mr. Farmer. She then went to school in Virginia to be near Mr. Farmer who was attending a Virginia Theological school.

Dan Harris Show

May 23 through June 12 will be the Dan Harris show at the Pat Wall gallery. Mr. Harris calls his show Reconstructions in Time, "A recollection of old and odd remnants simmered to an essence." Some of the titles are most amusing, such as: Relics for Future Reference, Two Headed, Sweep-second Lion of Time, Movement of the Pragmatic Mouse, Souvenirs and Indiscretions.

Roving Discs

Salvador Dali is still asking for models, girls!

Page Wibby, who is showing the latest styles in chipmunk and leopard skin shirts, looks quite fetching.

Statement: the Cage of Nightingales was one of the most delightful, whimsical, nostalgic, thoroughly adorable of movies we have seen in a long, long time.

Mrs. Leon Fischer spent Thursday in San Francisco.

Have You Read . . .

(Continued From Page Sixteen) this book are important, and would be considerably more important if there were any chance of action proceeding from the knowledge, but the figure of the man which emerges through his writing is to me even more important. General Stilwell attributed to the Chinese soldiers under his command qualities which I feel must have been his own. Of them he wrote: "To me the Chinese soldier best exemplifies the greatness of the Chinese people—their indomitable spirit, their uncompromising loyalty, their honesty of purpose, their steadfast perseverance. He endures untold privations without a whimper, he follows wherever he is led, without question or hesitation, and it never occurs to his simple and straightforward mind that he is doing anything heroic. He asks for little and always stands ready to give all."

Coming up through General Stilwell's reporting of the hopeless muddle of war is constant evidence of a spirit of great toughness and a lusty sense of humor. It seems to me that General Stilwell knew he was being placed in the obvious, unenviable and painful situation of being a prophet without honor in his time and country. A wry awareness of his position seems to have been one of the factors which enabled him to continue. He evidently possessed a rare combination of enthusiasm and candor, of detachment and passion. It seems also that only the fact he was deliberately used as a scapegoat has prevented his occupying the place which is rightfully his.

Nurses' Dinner

The Monterey County Nurses' Association District 26 is to be hostess for a pot luck dinner this Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Girl Scout House. They will be hostesses to the Salinas Nurses' Association District 46. The speaker will be Dr. Wendy Stewart of Sacramento, who will speak on legislation. All nurses are invited to attend; Chairman Mrs. Marie Butts of Carmel may be called if any further information is desired at 1935-W.

Maytime Wedding

Mrs. Rae M. Ward, formerly of Watertown, New York, announced the marriage of her daughter, Isabelle, to Mr. Harry J. Woodruff Jr., of Pacific Grove, on Sunday, May 16. The couple will make their home in the Carmel Valley.

Boy Scout Court

The Boy Scouts held a Court of Honor on Tuesday at the Sunset School Auditorium where 75 Scouts from three districts, Carmel, host district, and Monterey and Pacific Grove, received the awards. Master of Ceremonies Allen Griffin conducted the meeting, and Speirs Ruskell, vice-chairman of the Carmel district, spoke a few words of welcome to the other districts. Major R. J. Compton gave a talk on Survival. Award highlight was the Eagle award to James Wachzeitl.

Carmel boys who received awards were: Bruce Robison, Jack Hilgers, Bradley Dixon, Gilbert Neill, Allan Knight Jr., Jerry Robison, Stanley Fralick, Raymond Danielson, and Allen Rayburn.

Cubans Here

Dr. and Mrs. L. Falla of Veda-do, Havana, have been here visiting at the Highlands Inn. Dr. Falla is a Cuban government official.

Douglas School Parties

The Douglas School is rolling gaily ahead with all kinds of parties planned for the rest of its school year. Freshman Peggy Glaser gave a supper party last Friday which was attended by the whole school and most of the faculty. The party was held at the Glaser home in Pebble Beach; there was a barbecue followed by a Treasure Hunt which took everyone all over Pebble Beach. Dean Folger's party, which was scheduled the next day for the senior class, was postponed due to the illness of Miss Folger. Miss Peggy Heebner had given a party for the senior class on May 8, and soon to happen will be Marcia Kuster's theatre party for the school on May 26, and Joan Davidson's party for the senior class on June 6.

Women Voters Convention

Mrs. Frances Ballard, Mrs. R. Lofton and Mrs. Paul Low will attend the state convention of the League of Women Voters next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday as delegates from the Monterey Peninsula League. The president, Mrs. Edmond Sullivan, expects to be present the third day, and any interested members who can go to Santa Monica for the meetings will be welcome. There will be 117 voting delegates.

The California L. W. V. had 10 delegates to the regional conference for UNESCO which met in San Francisco last week. Mrs. Charles E. Heming of New York City, a League national board member and also member of the N. S. National Commission for UNESCO, will address a dinner meeting at the convention in Santa Monica on Wednesday evening on the subject, The United Nations and the U. S. Voter. She attended the meeting in San Francisco last week.

Men Of The Wayfarer

On Thursday the Men of the Wayfarer will have a dinner meeting at 7:00 p. m. at Hotel La Ribera. Speaker will be international war correspondent Jay Allen, who now lives in Carmel Valley. Mr. Allen spoke in Carmel about a year ago when Andre Malraux's film on Spain was shown here; he collaborated with Ernest Hemingway on a book called All the Brave.

Honeymooners

Honeymooning in the Valley at Rancho Los Laureles were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller of Piedmont, while at the Highlands Inn we find movie star and singer Toni Martin honeymooning with his new bride, the former Cyd Clarisse, a Hollywood dancer.

A summer pouch to swing from a tanned wrist is to be found at the gay STOCKING SHOP on Ocean Avenue. Formed of a wicker base with desert cloth pouch and waterproofed for beach, women will find it elegant for sand and sun time, and fashionable for avenue promenading. Grown-up colors are desert rose, yucca lime, apple green, flagship blue, faded blue, and white, to be had in stripes, polka dots, prints or solid colors. A miniature edition for little girls is made of colored wicker, with pouches of gay chintz, candy stripes and well-loved denim. Mothers and daughters will be most fashionable and gay when swinging pouches from their wrists.

It's Sunday time, lazy time, you probably don't feel like cooking great masses of things, and you've probably forgotten to stock up on things, and anyway you can't buy fresh meats on Sundays. Just take it easy and saunter in to KIP'S on Ocean Avenue and find the answer to your meal in the Frozen Foods Department. Birdseye Spun Steaks of beef and veal will make a spectacular entrance, and how about Frying Chickens and Chickens a la King and French Fried Potatoes? Toss in a few apple turnovers and Hawaiian pineapple chunks and you're all set for Sunday dinner. For extra munching you can add any and all kinds of berries: blueberries, strawberries, loganberries, young berries, and raspberries. Oh, yes, and Howard Brand peaches and apricots. Now, we bet you can hardly wait until Sunday. Well, go in to KIP'S right now, on Ocean Avenue.

If you were interior-designing a room, you might go straight to flower colors for subtle shadings. The old cliché of art improving on nature doesn't always hold true when it comes to color. For instance, the magnificent array of stock shown at the FLOR DE MONTEREY holds all the range of pink to purple any palette would be happy to copy: pale shell pink, cream pink, rose, mauve, lavender, magenta, purple, color upon color, each shade a subtle variant. Plan a room on stock colors, or mass your rooms with these sweetly scented pink and lavender flowers. Get armfuls of them at the FLOR DE MONTEREY.

Have you just arrived in Carmel? Do you want a wonderful Carmelish place to stay? Do you want a patio with garden furniture, green grass, brilliant flowers, crisp tile work? Do you want a building of Mediterranean roses and almond white with ultra modern interiors and a lobby of view, fireplace, comb paneling and rattan furniture? Just dash to the TORRES INN on Ocean and make reservations fast, because your opinion and wishes are public opinion and wishes and vice versa. And everybody likes beauty and comfort. Give the TORRES INN a try and you'll remember Carmel as the best vacation place you ever had, and you'll know why.

This time of the year everybody's healthier, everybody exercises more, runs around more, and eats more. And, if anything, they eat more fruits, more vegetables, more salads. The accent is on freshness and coolness and greenness. CARLETON'S GROCERY says come on in and they'll show you a luscious range of fresh strawberries, and other fruits, heaped displays of fresh corn and artichokes and round cool cabbages and lettuce. Load your shopping bags to the brim with all these neat eatables at CARLETON'S GROCERY on Ocean.

Smooth and lissome for summer wear is the rayon shantung at PUTNAM AND RAGGETTS. It hangs beautifully for long swinging skirts, it makes up neatly into play time dresses, avenue dresses, and cocktail gowns. The colors are all the wonderful ones to heighten your tan; a rich dark green, a delicate pink, a chartreuse, a Chinese red, and the forever smart black and off white. Summer time is sea and wind and sun time, and you will want gowns of rayon shantung to accent your sun tanned beauty.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! The POKE ABOUT on Ocean announces a sale! Twenty-five per cent has been chopped off of all decorated stationery and notes, including the lovely pine scented stationery. Innumerable kinds of paper are included in this sale; you will find everything for any kind of note you want to send: floral notes or plain, paper with etchings, formal stationery and carelessly casual. Remember the sale at the POKE ABOUT, twenty-five per cent off on all writing paper.

Graduation time is upon some of us and all the rest of us are interested in the graduates. The VILLAGE JEWELERS is particularly concerned and offers for the momentous occasion wonderful watches in nearly all the popular brands and fully guaranteed. There could be no more exciting gift for the starry-eyed graduate than a watch to strap upon her or his wrist, to wear proudly during vacation days and to get off to college in time. A new watch is as exciting as a new car and will get its owner to the beach on time, home to dinner on time, and keeping that great social date with the gang on time.

Exclusive with always exclusive GUMP'S is the William Manker line of beautiful and unique glazed porcelain bowls and candle holders priced from $3.50 up. The pieces come in varied colors of subtle soft shades, glimmering lavenders and pale sea foam greens, and cream shades, and the bowl shapes are intensely unique, symmetrical and fascinating. Shape and shade merge beautifully into a form which is particularly adaptable for Carmel living. Any of the bowls would fit charmingly into your interior decor, or be handy enough for patio use.

A tea given last Monday at the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP on Ocean Avenue for Otheto Weston has greatly stimulated the sale of the Mother Lode Album published by the Stanford University Press. The Album is stock full of interesting photographs of this famous section of the country and a well written and fascinating commentary runs along with the photographs. Old timers and new timers will be enchanted with an album which records all there is to know about the Mother Lode Country. Otheto Weston, who did both text and photographs lives, now in Columbia, California.

A High School graduate and almost off to college! Combine these two high spots with a graduation gift to take care of both. All graduates will exclaim with delight over the panties, plain or lace trimmed in nylon, silk, and rayon, in colors of pink, blue, white and coral at .59 and up at HOWARD'S in Monterey. Slips are rayon, knit jersey, crepe and nylon, beginning at $3.95, and the lovely gowns, starting at $5.98, come in rayon or nylon. Think of fudge feasting at the sorority house in rayon or cotton pajamas of bright gay colors ($4.98 and up.) All the lingerie is nationally advertised and will make happy summer wearing for any graduate and good packing for an off to college wardrobe.

Gather all your friends together for a big Tom Turkey feast this weekend. The unfortunate but delicious turkey will have been freshly killed and will be sold at a special price at MAC'S POULTRY

SHOP on San Carlos for this weekend. MAC'S triangle of broilers, fryers and roasters will also be specials this weekend, for fastness and for price. Two other items that your attention should note are the nice fresh rabbits, and the brown country ranch eggs.

Raving beauties are the Servel refrigerators in five different models (one is four cubic feet, two models are six cubic feet, two models are eight cubic feet), at ROBERT WALDO HICKS on Junipero street. Toss them into a beauty contest and they'd win, doors closed. But just for fun, fling the doors open and you find they have brains, too: frozen foods storage compartments, plenty of ice cubes, easy to clean, vegetable crispers, and they know how to be absolutely quiet. You see they are beautiful, useful, and never open their mouths. In fact, they are known as the refrigerators you hear about but don't hear. Have a close-up view of these proud beauties at ROBERT WALDO HICKS.

To display slender fingers and the flashing rings upon them, wear fashionable guard rings from the HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT, to keep your rings safe, sheltered and more beautiful with protection. The delicate circles are in yellow gold, white gold, or platinum, to match your other jewelry, and the tiny square cut stones that sparkle from them are rubies, or sapphires, or emeralds or diamonds. These exquisite enhancements for your more elegant rings come singly or in pairs, can be used for a solo role or to do some subtle accompaniment, and do all kinds of undertoned things for your hands.

That fashionable material, denim, isn't restricted to women alone. Go into BRANSON'S MEN'S SHOP and you will find men getting equal glamor chances with denim slack suits, at $15.95, very natty indeed with rope belted jackets, zippered fronts with roomy pockets. With a denim slack suit you're all set for sailing, strutting, and sauntering about. To complete your outfit, there are rows of cotton rayon tea shirts, with short sleeves and all kinds of brilliant colors to give you that male peacock feeling.

Whip your hips into shape with good brisk treatments from the STAUFFER SYSTEM on Fifth and Mission streets. The time is upon you when you have to make a semi-nude bathing suit appearance and when you pull off all your coverage and step into a thin piece of jersey, you will be sending out prayers of thanks that you had bulges and bumps removed before it was too late. Women all over the country are counting on the STAUFFER SYSTEM to get them ready for their bathing suits; there are 300 shops spread around in the various cities and everyone is eagerly rushing in to them for hip and thigh reduction. It's as inexpensive to reduce as it's simple: twelve treatments for $15.00, or twenty-five for $25.00. Don't wait for it to be too late and you have to refuse invitations because you're ashamed of your appearance. Get down to the STAUFFER SYSTEM now and prepare for a great summer.

Mrs. Clarabut of the HERITAGE ANTIQUE SHOP has just recently returned from Los Angeles with an immense new heap of wonderfully colored woolsens to be woven into hooked and braided rugs. She has prepared the materials so that they are all ready to work with, and she will be pleased to instruct you in the fascinating art of rug making. That she is an expert herself is evidenced by the samples of her work about the shop, the clever and beautiful braided welcome mat in the window with an eagle worked into it, and the hooked mats for chairs, one with deliciously colored strawberries for its pattern. Have a good summertime learning to make rugs to toss in front of waiting winter fireplaces.

That beautiful new shop you've noticed on Sixth Street with an interior decor of cream plaster and smart looking redwood is SCOTT'S SILVER SHOP, and like a mine in the earth it is filled with only true gold, true silver. SCOTT'S SILVER SHOP specializes in custom designing and making silver belts and buckles, with some of them designed in both silver and gold. It is also a saddle shop with custom designed saddles of leather and silver, with all necessary equestrian equipment. Remember to go in for a visit, if only for the pleasure of seeing the gleaming, shining displays.

The word has gotten around by this time, and we are sure that everyone is aware that Sunday afternoon is open studio time at EDDA M. HEATH'S (PAPPEL) studio on the corner of Thirteenth and Lincoln streets. Everyone is invited to go in and look at the paintings; there is no pressure upon you to buy anything, merely a pleasant invitation extended to all people who would be interested in surveying some very fascinating marine oil paintings. So, remember, that around the hours of one o'clock until five o'clock there is an open studio where you may wander in and give vent to your artistic interests.

The CARMEL VALLEY INN announces the opening of its glass-enclosed Terrace Room for cocktails starting Memorial Day weekend. Below the Terrace Room lies the sea green swimming pool, ready for use and ready for membership applications, which are good until November. If you want to swim in this glimmering green paddock pool, you should apply for membership right away and spend a marvelous summer stroking through smooth easy water. As soon as it is warm enough there will be Thursday night barbecues around the pool.

If it weren't for GALLATIN'S at Bixby Creek, people probably wouldn't get down the coast nearly as often as they do. Everyone likes to have a goal at the end of a drive, and it's pleasant to drive down the exciting Big Sur highway with dinner at GALLATIN'S for the finale. Lunches are served on Sundays, which means you can lunch overlooking the Pacific, then drive all the way down to Big Sur; and with daylight saving time, you have light and sunsets for your drive down for evening dinner.

Travel Department:

If Nothing Happens—

Pop Smith has reservations to leave by United Airlines on May 24 for Los Angeles to visit his daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Kaftan, and his grandchildren, Ludwig L., Jr., eight years old, and granddaughter, Linda Lee, five years old. On May 28 Pop Smith expects to go up to Idyllwild, about 100 miles from Los Angeles and 5,000 feet up in the mountains where his youngest daughter and her husband live and run a summer and winter resort. They are Mr. and Mrs. James W. Weir. On May 29 they will celebrate Pop Smith's birthday and the Weir's wedding anniversary, as both these highlight events occur on the same day. Pop Smith says he can only spare a week away from his arduous duties at the Carmel theatre; he hopes to return to his Penthouse on the 31 of May, and to his job if "he hasn't been fired." He says he shall miss all his friends in Carmel.

Jeffers To Ireland

Tor House will say farewell to Una and Robinson Jeffers who fly to New York on June 7, and fly to Ireland on June 11, landing on Shannon Field. They will visit and travel in Ireland for about two months, then journey into Scotland and England. They plan to be at the London opening of Medea, which will play with an English cast. They will fly back sometime in late September.

Mexico At Last

After all those deep-laid plans for trips, those illusions of Paris and South America, those decisions and revisions, Louise Pontukoff and her two children, Tania and Gregory, flew Friday to Mexico City and will leave from there for Costa Rica.

Off For Riviera

Graduating June 10 from the Douglas School, Peggy Heebner, daughter of Mrs. Bertran G. Dienelt, will leave from San Francisco on the Tarango, June 15. The Tarango, which is the same boat the Dienelts left on several months ago, will go through the canal and reach Cherbourg in 27 days. At the same date that Miss Heebner sails Mr. and Mrs. Bertran G. Dienelt will leave the Riviera for a trip through Germany, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden. In Norway they will visit with Paul Swanson's brother, Alex Swanson. They will then take a boat to Cherbourg to meet Miss Heebner and all of them return to the Riviera. Paul Swanson will be on hand to see Miss Heebner off on her journey.

June Degan To Paris

June Degan, who will soon have completed decorations and renovations on the house she bought from Marie Elizalde, will fly June 17 to New York and thence to Paris. She will be gone about three months, spending most of her time in France, with a visit to London, and possibly Switzerland.

Julia Parks To New York

Julia Parks plans to leave soon for a six weeks' visit in New York.

Dublin Bound

Thirteen years ago Speirs Ruskell arrived in this country from Ireland for a week's visit in Carmel. Succumbing to the usual lure, he has been here ever since. But on July 16 Mr. Ruskell, his wife, Sheldardene, and their baby, John, will sail for Ireland on the Queen Elizabeth for a great homecoming in Dublin at which all the Ruskell family will be present.

Flying from Carmel June 23, they will visit Mrs. Ruskell's mother, Mrs. Marjorie Haertel, in Los Angeles for about ten days, then fly to Chicago to visit Mrs. Ruskell's brother, Kenneth Kerr, for four or five days, then fly to New York where they will be joined by Barbara Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Jenkins, who will accompany them to Ireland.

The Queen Elizabeth will dock at Southampton; the party will go on to London via Holyhead, then to Dublin where Mr. Ruskell's brother, Victor Ruskell, will meet them and drive them 50 miles south to the 300 year old Ruskell estate. Joining them there will be Mr. Ruskell's "kid brother," Reverend George Arnold Ruskell, who has churches at Fort Chino, Ottawa, and Mr. Ruskell's sister, Mrs. William Carroll, who will arrive from London with her young son to complete the family reunion. Big event of the summer reunion will be the Dublin Horse Show from August 24 through August 28; Victor Ruskell will enter four horses in the show and ride himself.

The Ruskells will return from Ireland in September, sailing from Southampton on September 24 on the Queen Mary. That is, unless they can get an extension and stay in Ireland a few months longer.

Gold In Alaska?

Ed Doro, who had expected to be in Paris by this time, announces that he is off for a six weeks' tour of Alaska. He is going to Juneau, to the Yukon, to Fairbanks, to Ketchikan, in fact, he intends to cover all of Alaska that is coverable. Mr. Doro says he wants to find out if there is still gold under the snow, and if everyone still packs a gun in Fairbanks.

New Inspiration

Master water colorist Sammie Colburn, who has been planning a several months' field trip through the southwestern states, has taken off for a two weeks' visit in Denver, Colorado. Mr. Colburn took paintings with him to exhibit at the Gallery there, and will probably bring back sketches and water colors touched with his usual harmonious color, interesting design.

Lure Of Far East

With June 4 as his tentative sailing date, Dr. Eric Berne will sail from San Francisco on the China Bear, headed for Shanghai, the East Indies, and Siam. After this Dr. Berne says he may continue on around the world, going to Turkey, Spain and London, where he will see his publishers, or he may give the whole thing up and come on back home. There is a possibility, too, that the United States government may grant him a passport to visit Russia. If Dr. Berne goes to London he will attend the International Mental Hygiene Congress.

Dr. Berne is not traveling for pleasure alone. He plans to study psychiatric care and psychiatric methods in the various hospitals in different countries; he is immensely interested in native ways of raising children, and he hopes to be able to study the effects of the war on the children of all the war touched countries he will visit.

Dr. Berne plans to be gone from two to three months.

Dickinsons In L. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickinson have gone to Los Angeles for a week's visit. They are going to stay with their son, Henry Dickinson, who makes kilns for the many potters up and down the coast.

Colonel Waters Leaving

Colonel and Mrs. Arthur C. Waters are planning a summer in Europe and during their trip there they plan to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Speirs Ruskell in Ireland. Col. Waters is the brother of Hank Waters, father of Mrs. Ruskell.

Take Your Choice, Neighbor!

The missus—who writes our Woman's Column in the Clarion under the name of "Nancy Gale"—gets letters about recipes, advice on etiquette, home management, etc.

"Any beverage your guests prefer. You don't have to serve cider—any more than you have to serve beer...but it's often courteous to let guests have a choice."

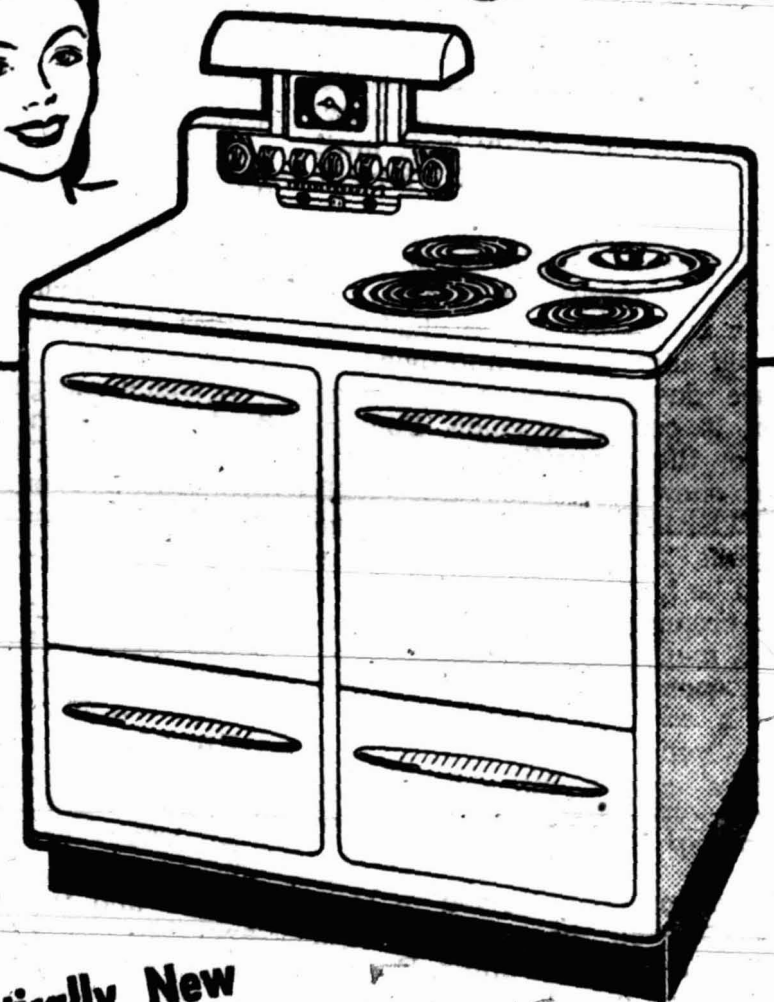

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit—made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply:

Piano And Violin

Angie Machado and Georgia Niklett are giving a double piano concert at Forest Hills Hotel Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Fireside lounge. They will open with the Arensky suite for two pianos, violinist Verne Marceaux will then play the Handel F major sonata for violin with Miss Machado accompanying him on the piano, which will be followed by the first movement of the Grieg Concerto, played by Miss Niklett with Miss Machado playing the orchestra accompaniment in a second piano arrangement. Mr. Marceaux will play a group of violin numbers and the concert will close with the two pianos performing a series of lighter Spanish and Cuban rhythms.

Fashion Show

Continuing the tradition of the Wednesday afternoon fashion lunches at the Pine Inn, the Cinderella Shop gave this week's show, with full fledged summer dresses and a great deal of white, startling and dramatic against the tanned models. There were interesting golf suits of crisp white blouse, white skirt, and a white dress under a long full coat of red gabardine; a white dress with bands of pink, blue and chartreuse at the neck, and another white with an intricately twisted thick sash of chartreuse and green were interesting variations on the white theme. Completing the summer white appearance was a long, tight-waisted, full skirted white pique evening gown with two huge bands of the material crossed over each shoulder, giving a classic Grecian appearance.

Ready for summer was the series of tight-waisted, full and long skirted cottons with which adorable wicker baskets were carried; a brown linen suit of Irish mougashel caused excitement as well as the demurest thing we've ever seen, a navy blue dress, with white buttons down the front, little waist, sloping shoulders, a thick quilted red petticoat showing under the skirt and a bonnet tied under the chin and veiled. This is surely designed to make any man feel strong, protective and hopelessly masculine.

Models for the show were Mrs. Cynthia Taylor, Mrs. Edith Clancy, Mrs. Ruth Allaire, and Miss Blanche Schmitz. Mrs. Gladys Johnson did some excellent commentary and looked very smart in a grayish blue boucle from the Cinderella shop. As usual, Michael Franke was the only man at the show, though we glimpsed Jack Geisen, Bert Taylor and Harrison Godwin lurking at the entrance.

Swedish Bride

Coming from Sweden all by herself to marry Gunar Lundgren, whom she had met in Sweden, was Marianne Lundberg, who was married to Mr. Lundgren in the Church of the Wayfarer on May 9. It was a quiet wedding with only organist Margaret Lea and Dr. K. Fillmore Gray present in the church. The bride, however, was gowned for a thousand eyes, wearing a huge hooped skirt of white bengaline and carrying American Beauty roses. They honeymooned in Carmel, but sent a sad report back to Dr. Gray from their trip south, saying that 100 miles below the Big Sur they lost their German camera which had the record of all their wedding pictures.

Mr. Lundgren is an engineer with the Hennigson Company in New York.

Stanford Party

Joanne Gorham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Gorham, recently entertained eight of her Stanford classmates at her home in Carmel. They played at the Beach Club and spent one evening doing the First Theatre in Monterey. Stanford girls who enjoyed the Gorham's hospitality were Isabel Taggart, Dorothy Thomas, Jean Hoffman, Phyllis Woodward, Marjorie Wheat, Dora Stoner, Gail Larson, Marilyn Cralle.

South Of France

Blonde, pert Mrs. Paula Beldon flies June 15 for New York where she will use her French flair for clothes to do some shopping then take the good ship Sobieski on July 2 for France. Mrs. Beldon takes her two year old son with her, and will meet her 14 year old daughter, Bridget Pernod, whom she has not seen for three years. She will take a house in the south of France for some months before going to Paris.

Williamson Show

On exhibit at the Myron Oliver art gallery in Monterey are the guaches and water colors of Harvel Williamson who has adopted Carmel and Carmel's atmosphere as his own from now on. There are 17 of the paintings and they will be on display throughout the month.

Born in Denver, Colorado, Mr. Williamson spent a long career as an art student, did a great deal of Hollywood set design work, and was engaged for 13 years in commercial and industrial art. Mr. Williamson is at present designing interiors and exteriors for Hugh Comstock.

Tri-County Horse Show

The second annual Tri-County Horse Show and Race Meet will take place on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, May 29, 30, and 31, at Pebble Beach under the management of Richard Collins and Rudy Davis.

The show will include jumping, horsemanship in both western and eastern styles, bareback musical chairs, a jackpot stake race; there will be a stock horse division of lightweights, heavyweights and Hackamores; a polo division; a hunter and jumper division, and a pleasure horse division of Palominos, quarter horses, Arabians, and Tennessee walking horses.

Entries from Carmel, the Carmel Valley, the Highlands and Pebble Beach, will be: Frankie DeAmaral, Tex Raibourn, Viola Raibourn, Lynn Hodges, Nancy McCarthy, T. F. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Fouratt, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Smith, Virginia Pioda, Jackie LeFleur, Susie, Sharon, and Michael Stanton, Julie Work, Mrs. Jackie Setchel, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatlo, who will be back from New York in time for the event, Col. and Mrs. R. E. Anderson, Joe Hudson, Tommy Bunn, and Sheila Godwin.

Douglas School entries will be Deborah Baird, Gregory Bacon, Barbara Crawford, Ann Coleman, Sarah Coleman, Diane and Phyllis Ekman, Peggy Glasser, Gloria Kovacevich, Marcia Kuster, Holly Gales, Sallie Law, Felicia McKenna, Sybil McKenna, Perry Oterso, Barbara Register, Ann Richard, Jacqueline Six, Sandra Six and Yvonne Yutz.

Have Fun, Help Kids Have Fun, See Play Tonight

chairmen of the play sponsorship. Lee Crowe, who has many fine productions of the past to his credit, directed the play and has drawn together a large and able cast. Clayton Somers, who had the star role in Time of Your Life, has the exacting part of District Attorney Flint. Larry Rose, whose recent performance in Here Today brought him a great deal of praise, plays Defense Attorney Stevens Friday night. On Saturday night Gene Eplett, who earned a spontaneous burst of applause each night in Mrs. Moonlight, plays the same role. The highly dramatic part of Karen Andre will be played by Catherine Drachnik, a talented newcomer, who gained her experience in acting at the University of Maryland where she was a member of the honorary dramatic society, Alpha Xi Omega.

Mona Williams, gifted writer, is a discovery. Her marked dramatic talent and fine voice were revealed in a tryout for a small part and she was given the prominent role of Nancy Lee Faulkner. On Saturday night this emotional part will be enacted by Gwen Callum who recently scored a success in Mrs. Moonlight and has appeared in several films while under contract to Columbia Studios.

Ruth Marion MacElroy, who plays Magda Svenson, recently played in Here Today and always has an appreciative public awaiting her stage appearances. Hildreth Hare made an impressive comeback in Dream Girl after an absence of several years from Carmel plays and appears on Sunset stage as Roberta Van Rensselaer, terpsichorean. The gangster, Larry Regan, will be played Friday night by Nicky Le Feuvre who played in Dream Girl and also did the settings. Art Shoemaker, who acted in several USO shows in Carmel and Fort Ord, and was in the long run of The Spoilers at the First Theatre, has the role Saturday night.

Frederick Stevens draws upon his experience in European productions and as a member of the U. S. Army staff of propagandists on Radio Luxembourg, to meet the dramatic requirements of the role of Jungquist. Albert Van Houtte, who played several parts in Dream Girl and is still remembered as the heavy in Green Grow the Lilacs, plays the presiding judge. Gene Watson, long a mainstay of Forest Theatre productions and Carmel little theatre interests, has the part of Whitfield. Ken Smith, the bartender in Time of Your Life and the trapper in Distant Drums, plays Van Fleet. Jack Walsh, whose previous appearances have been in Distant Drums as the doctor and Time of Your Life as the policeman, has the role of Elmer Sweeney.

The Night of January 16th was presented at the Fort Ord theatre Wednesday night, and received with tremendous enthusiasm.

Pine Needles...

Sale Nets Over $1,000

The best hopes of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' Episcopal Church was to make $1,000 at their rummage sale last week. That amount has been slightly exceeded. Most of the clothing and shoes were bought to send to Europe or the Far East. Mrs. Sidney Williams and her kitchen committee served an excellent Coney Island lunch of hot dogs, potato salad, relishes, ice cream, cookies and coffee. This was eaten in the sunshine at tables in the garden. The purchaser of a fine Mah-Jong set who left behind one of the four racks which hold the pieces is asked to telephone Mrs. John W. Dickinson, Carmel 519-J.

The next meeting to sew and pack bundles for Europe will be held at the Parish House of the Church of the Wayfarer on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Clean clothing and materials of all kinds may be left in a box inside the door of the Parish House of All Saints' Episcopal Church or Mrs. Walter Lehmann, telephone 1287, will call for them. More women who can find time to sew at home are needed and are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Lehmann.

Missionary Meeting
The Carmel Missionary Society will hold its next to the last meeting of the year in Parish House of All Saints' Church on Tuesday. The speaker will be Dr. Henry S. Houghton, for 44 years a medical missionary in China and the recently retired head of the Medical School of the Rockefeller Foundation at Peking, in which city he was for four years a prisoner of the Japanese.

At the business meeting which precedes Dr. Houghton's talk a new secretary and treasurer must be elected. Mrs. Charles E. Corbin will retire after two years' service as secretary, and Miss Mary E. Barnes after many years as treasurer. Tea will be served after the meeting.

Valley Field

Flying in to the valley and landing on the well known air strip used by all homing planes, were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Parker, who flew down in their own plane from Portland, spent some time at Rancho Los Laureles in the valley, and flew on to Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Fields also flew their own plane down, stopped at the valley Rancho, and then flew to Los Angeles.

Baby Shower

Mrs. Stanley Westcott gave a baby shower at her home on Seventh and Carpenter streets Tuesday night at 8:00 p. m. honoring Mrs. John E. Hudelson. Amusing decorations were the huge stork dominating the mantelpiece and a little celluloid baby all surrounded with candles; swinging from the mantelpiece was a clothes line pinned with miniature baby clothes. The room was decorated with spring flowers of pink and blue.

Guests who enjoyed the card games and refreshments and who congratulated the guest of honor were: from Salinas, Mrs. Leroy Hicks, Mrs. Don Mammen, Mrs. Frank Aliano, Mrs. Johnny Panziera, Mrs. William Bernard, and Mrs. Nathan Coulter; from Monterey, Mrs. L. M. Anderson; and from Carmel, Mrs. Robert Little and Mrs. Jack Montgomery.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, May 23, with the Golden Text from II Corinthians: "What agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God" (6:16).

The following citations are included in the sermon:

Ephesians: "This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness" (4:17, 24).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The time approaches when mortal mind will forsake its corporeal, structural, and material basis, when immortal Mind and its formations will be apprehended in Science, and material beliefs will not interfere with spiritual facts" (p. 402).

St. John's Chapel Del Monte

The Rev. Theodore Bell, Rector.

8:00 Holy Communion.
9:30 Childrens Service.
11:00 Morning Prayer and Sermon.

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a place apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life.

The Chapel is opposite the Naval School, just outside Monterey, on Fremont St.

Reviewer Glad He Wasn't Judge In H. S. Art Show

By John Cunningham

The Carmel Art Festival for the California High Schools, currently at the Carmel Art Association Galleries, is a visual delight and a living proof of the vitality of our way of life: the over-all pattern of good design and color which can only come to a people with an unhampered and free attitude toward creative invention.

The judges must have been hard put to pick the winners, for in each category it was the slightest feather that tipped the scales. For instance, in the Design Class, Don Roberts of Stockton High School, and Stan Banta and Carol Classic of Pacific Grove didn't get prizes, but I dare say that Beryl Terrano and Virginia Honor, both of Healdsburg, who won first prize and honorable mention, might breathe a sigh of relief at their good luck, along with Ray Robb of the Technical High School, Oakland, winner of second prize, and Nancy Newport of Hanford Union High School, for they won their prizes against work of real vitality.

The awarding of the prize in Class I (Most Creative Expression) must have been a dilly, and although one can see why the judges awarded first prize to Halvard Patterson of Edison High School, Fresno, many liked the second prize winner, Donna Perkins of Technical High School, Oakland, just as well. The same ones felt badly that Ernest Ball, Jr., of Albany High School, and the quite delightful drawing of June Nakamura of Palo Alto weren't awarded prizes along with the third and fourth prize winners, Robert Freschauf and Richard Lebedeff of Hayward, and the deservedly honorable mention, Jannie Aars of Carmel High School.

Among the more juicy of the water colors are those of Don Kebe, Mountain View; Karen Williams of Carmel; and Danny Garcia of Monterey. Especially vital is Dona Grafton of Pacific Grove. Outstanding among the temperas is Circus, by Rose Mary Cutino of Monterey High School; Iris White of Technical High School, Oakland; and Loretta Wood of Stockton High School.

Everett Ayraud of Shafter High School has an intriguing pastel and actually one would run out of complimentary adjectives in going over the whole show.

BUS STRIKE AVERTED

A threatened strike by Bay Rapid Transit drivers, members of the Motor Coach Employees' Union, was averted Wednesday when 20 local drivers were granted a wage increase from $1.27½ to $1.40 per hour at negotiations in Monterey.

Glimpses Of The Youth Conference

(Continued from Page One) that this is not to be charged to the organizers of this conference; it is a national blind-spot, a very strange historical flaw in our social action. How can we achieve social co-ordination without the definite and positive co-operation of this great social asset?

It goes without saying, alas, that one of the most acute of the problems, especially of youth, was also almost untouched, sex. This too is not the peculiar fault of this conference, but a flaw in the very tissue of our culture. Even the section on Mental, Physical and Social Health, where the problem belongs, no more than brushed it off. Somebody might have pointed to an admirable treatment by way of biology in the Monterey High School, or to such pioneer books as Chesser and Dawes' Sex Education in Practice, but no, even official psychologist and psychiatrist succumbed to the taboo.

The highest praise is due to the completeness and efficiency of the advance organization; the general planning committee, with our own Principal Charles Dawson, chairman, had done its big job faithfully and well. They had selected more than a score of scheduled speakers, the great majority of whom "rang the bell," and this is a high batting average. The immediate local arrangements clicked from start to finish, from the little trick of the coffee and doughnuts to the final round-up general session. All this testifies to intelligent, patient, tireless planning. After crediting all the participating communities with their due share of the work, Carmel as host must have very special mention for the high quality and bright success of the conference.

Library Board Approves Plans For New Wing

Sketches of the proposed new wing on the north side of the Carmel library have been submitted to the library board of trustees and have been tentatively approved, Elizabeth Niles, head librarian, said Wednesday. The addition would provide 3,000 square feet of badly-needed space, and would carry out the present architectural lines of the building. The matter is to be put before the Carmel City Council soon, and it is hoped that a bond election can be called to finance the project, according to Miss Niles.

"We haven't decided as yet how the extra space is to be used," she said, "but we are crowded in half a dozen directions. We need shelf space for 13,764 books now stored in the hallway, the storeroom, and the workroom. We would also like a separate reference room and a room for 'teen agers.'" between the union and company officials. The B. R. T. had offered an increase of 10 cents, which was refused by the union at a San Francisco meeting.

Spite Fences, Business Zoning Under Discussion

(Continued from Page Four) on and Building Inspector Floyd Adams defended the use of such fences where they are constructed to insure privacy, the problem remained unsolved, and was put over to the next meeting.

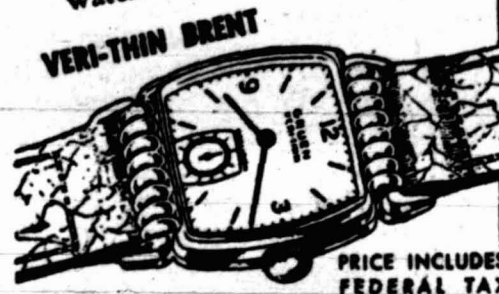

"We don't want any more business in Carmel," cried Bert Heron, when the question of increasing the area of the business zone came up. "To increase the business district would be a ghastly mistake." Inspector Adams pointed out that Carmel was originally laid out with an exceptionally large business area. "Business areas always contaminate neighboring residential areas," he said, "and increasing the business district would merely move the frontiers of contamination farther out. This question is going to come up again and again, and the city must be prepared with a master plan for zoning, if it is to retain control of the situation."

Donald Craig, acting chairman in the absence of P. A. McCreery, pointed out that the commission had "stalled for two years on zoning problems. The recent decision in the Theurer case has strengthened our hand," he said, "and the time has come to put our zoning campaign down in black and white." Craig is at present preparing preliminary sketches for a detailed map of the business district.
